Spain Demanding Satisfaction From Tokyo Government

MADRID, March 24.—(AP)—The Spanish government announced today that it had ordered all Spanish diplomatic missions abroad to cease representing Japanese interests.

Its communique said Spain had sent an "energetic demand for satisfaction" to Tokyo in connection with the execution of Spanish nationals and the destruction of Spanish property in the Philippines. The Spanish government said Thursday night that 172 Spanish men, women and children had been bayoneted to death by Japanese troops while American divisions were seizing Manila. The communique termed the attacks "premeditated murders."

Snow in City

Melting snow was falling early Saturday morning but prospects are for clearing weather, with the official forecast predicting "Clear to night, cooler Sunday, continuing mild." Estimated high for today is 42 above zero.

Patriot Dies

Field Marshal is Pleased

"Last Round Going Very Well," Monty Tells Men in Message

21ST HEADQUARTERS, March 24.—(Reuters)—Field Marshal Montgomery—in a message to all troops under his command—declared today "The last round is going very well."

Gen. Montgomery addressed this message to all 21st Army group troops.

"On the 7th of February, I told you we were going into the ring for the final and last round; there would be no time limit. We would continue fighting until our opponent was knocked out. The last round is going very well on both sides of the Rhine—and overhead."

HEAVY NAZI LOSSES
"2. In the west, the enemy has lost the Rhineland, and with it the flower of the last army—the Parachute Army, 5th Panzer Army, 15th Army and 7th Army. The 1st Army, farther to the south, is now being added to the list."

"In the Rhineland battles, the enemy has lost about 150,000 prisoners and there are many more to come. His total casualties amount to about 250,000 since the 8th of February."

"3. In the east the enemy has lost all of Pomerania east of the Oder, an area as large as the Rhineland, and three more German armies have been routed. Russian armies are within about 35 miles of Berlin."

"ENEMY IN CORNER"

"4. Overhead, Allied air forces are pounding Germany day and night. It will be interesting to see how much longer the Germans can stand it."

"5. The enemy in fact has been driven into a corner, and he cannot escape."

"Events are moving rapidly. 'The complete and decisive defeat of the Germans is certain.'"

Reds Storming East Defences of Berlin

By ROBERT MUSEL

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, March 24.—(BUP)—Nazi broadcasts said at least 80,000 Red Army troops, already six miles beyond the Oder river, were storming German defences 32 miles east of Berlin today in what may be the first stages of the climactic battle for the capital.

Six Soviet rifle divisions, supported by 100 or more tanks, cracked through the Oder river line opposite Kuestrin and smashed down the shortest road to Berlin as far as Golzow, 32 miles from the capital, before being halted yesterday, German broadcasts admitted.

The Germans said a "ding-dong" battle was raging in the outskirts of Golzow.

Other German broadcasts said Soviet pressure was increasing all along the Oder front between Kuestrin and Frankfurt, 16 miles to the south.

9-DAY ASSAULT

The Russians have been attacking Klessin, 33½ miles east of Berlin and nine miles south of Kuestrin, fiercely "from all sides" for nine days, the Germans said. The reference to "all sides" indicated.

Fliers Report:

"Colossal Battle" East of the Rhine

By LEO S. DISHER

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, March 24.—(BUP)—Allied airmen back from the pre-offensive bombardment of the Ruhr said today that a "colossal ground battle" was raging just east of the Rhine near Wesel on the 21st Army Group front.

More than 200 Liberators dropped supplies to the First Allied Airborne Army east of the Rhine in the first aerial provisioning of the advanced forces.

Coastal observers who had observed the trans-channel air traffic throughout the war said they never had seen such a spectacular display of aerial might. Bombers, fighters, gliders and transport planes by the thousands swarmed toward the Rhine front and back again.

HIT AIR FIELDS

One of the day's first operations reported was an assault by more than 1,050 heavies on 12 German air fields north of the Ruhr. Returning crewsman said the fields were "completely destroyed."

Britain Expresses Regret at Bombing Homes in Holland

LONDON, March 23.—(CP)—The government has expressed regret to the Netherlands for the "deplorable" accidental bombing of a residential area of The Hague by the RAF in a March 3 attack on German rocket sites. It was promised that disciplinary action would be taken against fliers responsible for what was described as an "error of judgment."

21st Army Group Front

Drew Announces

Ontario Govt. Is Dissolved: Election Soon

TORONTO, March 24.—(CP)—Premier Drew announced today the Ontario Legislature has been dissolved and "now that there must be an election our main concern is to bring it on as soon as possible."

TORONTO, March 24.—(CP)—Premier George Drew, after a three-hour cabinet meeting last night announced "the course of action has been decided upon but it would be most improper for me to say anything more until the necessary formalities have been completed."

His statement left the province still wondering at the developments that will follow the defeat of his Progressive Conservative government by a 51-36 vote in the legislature late Thursday night.

The premier declined to go beyond that single sentence but told reporters he hoped to "have something more definite Saturday."

ELECTION EXPECTED

From that meeting, convened about four p.m., less than 16 hours after a merger of CCF, Liberal and other forces ended his 20-month rule, was expected to come the announcement.

BIG OFFENSIVE OPENS—Allied crossings of the Rhine river have been made in the Wesel, Xanten and Rees areas on the northern sector of the western front where British, Canadian and United States troops of Field Marshal Montgomery's 21st Army group have swung into action. The Allied 1st Airborne Army is also reported to have dropped from the skies behind German emplacements north of the Ruhr. The map above shows the western front, with arrows pointing the probable direction of the new offensive. Wesel, on the east bank of the Rhine, has already fallen to the Allies.

Blackmore Fears Dominion To Become "Vassal State" In World Security Group

By CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, March 24.—An out-and-out direct attack on the United Nations proposal to establish a world peace enforcement organization was launched Friday in Parliament by John Blackmore, Lethbridge, Social Credit leader.

"The Social Credit movement," declared Mr. Blackmore, "believes that the proposals for the centralization of economic control on a world scale through a world monetary authority, backed by armed force of overwhelming strength and involving the centralization of political power on a world scale, which was formulated at the Bretton Woods and Dumbarton Oaks conferences, and which is to form the basis of the forthcoming San Francisco conference, would:

"First, involve the surrender of every vestige of effective national sovereignty.
"Second, destroy Canada's democratic constitution.
"Third, place this nation at the mercy of an alien-dominated international power.
"Fourth, render Canadians helpless to effect a democratic reconstruction."

Yanks Now Near Jap Headquarters On Luzon Island

MANILA, March 24.—(AP)—Infantry of the United States 33rd Division has moved to within 16 miles of Baguio, reported headquarters of Japanese troops on Luzon.

The 33rd Division, operating with guerrillas to move toward Baguio from San Fernando on the north-west coast, crossed the Naguilian river to seize Naguilian town and its airfield.

Other elements of the 33rd are moving on Baguio from the south and last were reported in tortuous Kennon Canyon, about eight miles south of the summer capital.

Off Indo-China, medium bombers sank two 2,600-ton freighters, two destroyers and a minesweeper of a seven-ship convoy. One U.S. bomber was lost. Four Japanese fighters were destroyed.

Weather Turns Against Hitler At a Good Time

LONDON, March 24.—(CP)—The weather finally turned against Hitler in one of the Allies' big offensives.

Brilliant sunshine favored the Allies as they struck across the Rhine into the plain north of the Ruhr.

In the big operations heretofore Hitler was able to count on weather—bad weather—as an ally when the occasion was critical.

But today it was different.

Claim Mass Lay-Off Of Canol Workers Has Already Begun

VANCOUVER, March 24.—(CP)—The Vancouver Sun said in a newspaper story yesterday that the mass layoff of Canol project workers in the Yukon has begun under the supervision of selective service officials in Vancouver.

The Sun said approximately 100 Canadian and United States employees are involved in the layoff which has followed the U.S. decision to close down the great pipeline project.

William Horgobin, regional employment officer for selective service here, flew to Whitehorse this week where he plans staying several days.

Allies 3 Miles Beyond Rhine After Crossing River Barrier

LONDON, March 24.—(Reuters)—Scottish troops who crossed the Rhine last night linked up today with airborne forces dropped this morning within range of Allied guns, Chester Willmott, CBC correspondent, reported tonight.

By BOYD LEWIS

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PARIS, March 24.—(BUP)—Four Allied land and airborne armies exploded across the Rhine on a broad front north of the Ruhr today and swept east for three miles or more in the "last battle" of the European war.

The broad Rhine barrier was breached at four or more points along a front of perhaps 40 miles extending south from the Kees-Wesel sector to Duesseldorf in the Ruhr basin.

Massive armored and infantry forces of the American Ninth, British Second, Canadian First and Allied airborne armies, under Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery, were smashing eastward across the burning Westphalian plain against amazingly weak opposition.

Boasted Screen Is Shattered

Twenty hours after the first British troops plunged across the Rhine the stunned Germans had failed to provide any effective resistance.

Their boasted battle screen along the east bank of the Rhine was shattered beyond repair, and a decisive Allied breakthrough that could knock Germany out of the war appeared a definite possibility.

Headquarters spokesmen said the Germans' main reserves had not yet joined the battle, and it was indicated that the tremendous Allied aerial bombardment of the past three days had crippled the enemy's main communications lines.

The Germans' last hope of averting an immediate breakthrough on the northern high road to Berlin lay now in rushing in their reserves over an area already partially controlled by the Allied airborne forces.

Skytroops Are Clearing Path

Almost 40,000 veteran British and American skytroopers were reported running riot through the German rear, slashing communications, knocking out gun positions and clearing the way for a lightning armored sweep into the German heartland.

Front correspondents said Field Marshal Montgomery, commander of the three ground armies, was rushing armored columns through the bridgeheads in great strength. Long lines of tanks and armored troop carriers were rolling up in the wake of the trail-blazing Allied troops, ready to swing through and exploit any crack in the Germans' main defences east of the Rhine.

Sixty-odd miles to the south the American First Army was crowding up against the southern flank of the Ruhr from its expanding Remagen bridgehead east of the Rhine.

Ninety miles south of the First Army, Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's American Third Army raised a new threat to the Germans with a surprise crossing of the Rhine near Ludwigshafen.

Hundreds of beaten Germans were reported surrendering to the British infantry along the east bank of the Rhine as the advance swept inland in the first few hours against spotty opposition.

Nazis Appear To Be Rallying

By mid-morning, however, the Nazis appeared to be rallying and returning airmen said a "colossal" battle was raging on the burning Westphalian plain north of the Ruhr.

The Allies were established solidly on a 12-mile stretch of the Rhine's east bank between Wesel and Rees and apparently had other footholds in the 30-mile area southward from Wesel to the Ruhr city of Duesseldorf.

Bislich, almost mid-way between Wesel and Rees, was captured by Scottish troops and British Commandos in the first wild rush across the Rhine and the 2nd Army men were mopping up a few die-hard Nazis in the streets of the two flanking towns.

Called "Final Assault" by Monty

Montgomery sent his men into battle with a stirring order of the day hailing the Rhine crossing as the "final assault" of the western war.

His headquarters said the attack was going "extremely well" in the opening hours and British United Press front correspondents reported that all initial objectives had been taken with amazingly light casualties.

Troops of the 51st and 15th Scottish divisions led the

Under Federal Act Legislation Is Introduced To Provide Housing Loans

Designed to facilitate granting of National Housing Act loans in Alberta, a bill revising sections of various provincial statutes was introduced into the Legislature Friday by Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general.

Title of the bill is "The National Housing Loans Act (Alberta)." It provides that certain provisions of the Judicature Act, the Land Titles Act, the Vendors' and Mortgagees' Costs Exemption Act and the Mechanics' Lien Act will not apply to loans under the National Housing Act (1944). On the other hand, certain former provisions of the Land Titles Act are restored.

When he introduced the legislation, Mr. Maynard tabled correspondence with Hon. J. L. Isley.

Rhine Battle Briefs

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

A U.S. Blue Network broadcaster reported from Paris today that almost 40,000 British and American paratroopers were landed in the Rhine bridgehead today.

21ST ARMY GROUP HEADQUARTERS, March 24.—(Reuters)—Troops of the Scottish 15th and 51st Divisions took part in today's Rhine crossings, it was announced. (This dispatch did not say whether these troops were under 1st Canadian Army or British and 2nd Army command.)

LONDON, March 24.—(CP)—A German broadcast declared today the German high command "adopts the supreme principle of continuing the battle on matter under what conditions."

NEW YORK, March 24.—Prime Minister Churchill was at Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters when the Rhine offensive started, a CBS broadcast said today.

BASEL, Switzerland, March 24.—(Reuters)—Unconfirmed reports reaching here today said the French 1st Army crossed the Rhine at Rastatt, southwest of Karlsruhe.

ON THE RHINE, March 24.—(CP)—The Highland Light Infantry of Galt, Ont., was the first Canadian regiment to cross the Rhine today as the 21st Army group offensive into the heart of Germany got under way.

One Rescued Alive

1 Fireman Dies, Others Injured In Blaze at 'Peg

WINNIPEG, March 24.—(CP)—Pinned beneath debris for more than six hours following a fire in a five-story building in the downtown Winnipeg wholesale district early today, fireman Bert Dawson, of the Winnipeg fire department, has been rescued and taken to hospital alive and conscious.

Equipped with a gas mask, he was kept alive after a cave-in when fed oxygen through an air line.

Another fireman, Jack Smith, was killed in the cave-in while still another, Frank Sandison, is missing and presumed killed. The building was owned by Robinson and Webster, manufacturers' agents.

THREE IN HOSPITAL

Three other fire-fighters, W. H. Fitchett, W. E. Falardeau and John Bonness, were taken to hospital with injuries.

Fire equipment from seven stations fought the blaze.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined and unofficial estimates of the damage exceed $100,000.

It Says Here

by Bob Hope

HOLLYWOOD, March 24.—When they had the annual Academy Award presentation I was there as usual. And I must tell you that of the last six Academy Awards, this was the best and most successful year for my parking concession. Naturally, with all those big stars there, I just walked in as calmly and as dignified as I could, on my hands. They couldn't make up their minds this year whether it was to be formal or informal, and they had me going crazy. I didn't know whether to have my short sleeve or long sleeve polo shirt cleaned. It was really a big thrill and an honor for me to be master of ceremonies there. . . . and when we first talked it over, there was a little argument about money. But it's a good thing they met my price. I couldn't have afforded a cent more. Just before the Oscars were awarded, some guy started yelling, "Bob Hope deserves something!"

Bob Hope deserves something! But before I could yell the third time, someone gave it to me.

ated the fortress town two miles west of the Oder may have been surrounded.

While Moscow did not immediately confirm the thrust, both Russian and Nazi dispatches for the past few weeks have reported preparations for a resumption of the Soviet march on Berlin almost complete.

Berlin said crack units of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army launched their attack yesterday from Oder bridgeheads at Manschnow, three miles southwest of Kuestrin, and near Genshmar, seven miles northwest, and linked up at Golzow.

90-MINUTE BARRAGE

A 90-minute artillery barrage and accompanying aerial bombardment paved the way for the twin attacks, Berlin said.

Far to the northeast, Second White Russian Army forces drove into the outskirts of blazing Danzig and Gdynia after a breakthrough to the sea midway between the two Baltic ports and isolating the respective garrisons.

Moscow dispatches said it appeared that the final battle to clear Gdynia and Danzig was under way. The Danzig garrison was hemmed into a pocket of 300 square miles and that at Gdynia, 75 square miles.

Arms Dropped

LONDON, March 24.—(CP)—Allied planes are dropping arms to Norwegian forces of the interior, a BBC broadcast disclosed last night. It warned Norwegian civilians that arms should be hidden.

"Superb Task"

Churchill Sends Troops Message

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

21ST ARMY GROUP, March 24.—(BUP)—Prime Minister Churchill sent the following message to the Twenty-First Army group this morning:

"I rejoice to be with the chief of the Imperial general staff at Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters of the 21st Army Group during this memorable battle of the forcing of the Rhine.

"British soldiers, it will long be told how, with our Canadian brothers and valiant United States Allies this superb task was accomplished. "Once the river line is pierced and the crust of German resistance is broken, a decisive victory in Europe will be near.

"May God prosper our arms in the noble adventure after our long struggle for king and country, for dear life, and for the freedom of mankind."

(Churchill's references to the Chief of the Imperial General Staff identified Field Marshal Sir Alan Brooke as his companion.)

announcement that the legislature would be dissolved and an election called possibly sometime in May.

Lieutenant Governor Albert Matthews earlier in the day was reported to have told the premier he would dissolve the house and call an election at a meeting with the cabinet yesterday morning.

The report ended rumors the Progressive Conservatives, with 38 seats in the 90-seat house, might resign and make way for the CCF, the official opposition with 32 seats. CCF Leader E. B. Joffe told reporters late in the day there was no need of an election and that he would form a government if called upon.

SILENT ON LIBERALS

Mr. Joffe declined to say whether his government would include the 16 Liberal members led by Former Premier Mitchell Hepburn who aided with the CCF in voting down the government on a CCF amendment to the address in reply to the Speech From the Throne. But it was obvious, on the basis of arithmetic alone, that it would hang in.

Mr. Hepburn issued a statement criticizing Premier Drew for pursuing "a persistent policy of deliberately ignoring and challenging the opposition members who constitute a majority of the Legislature."

He accused the government of "thorough incompetence" and said "it has resorted to every trick possible." The situation "has now resolved itself to a point where the sovereign power of the people must make the decision."

"The Last Round Going Very Well," Declares Monty

There is no possibility of doubt of this matter.

"The 21st Army group will now cross the Rhine."

"PILLAR TO POST"

"The enemy possibly thinks he is safe behind this great river obstacle. We will agree it is a great obstacle, but we will show the enemy he is far from safe behind it. This great Allied fighting machine, composed of integrated land and air forces, will deal with the problem in no uncertain manner.

"7. And having crossed the Rhine, we will crack across in the plains of northern Germany, chasing the enemy from pillar to post. The swifter and more energetic our action, the sooner the war will be over. And that is what we all desire to get on with the job and finish off the German war as soon as possible.

"8. Over the Rhine, then, let us go. And good hunting to you all on the other side.

"9. May the Lord mighty in battle give us the victory in this our latest undertaking as He has done in all our battles since we landed in Normandy on D-Day."

Mexico derives its name from Mexili, a tribal war god of the Aztecs.

Introduce Bill For Provision Housing Loans

finance minister regarding the bill. A copy has been forwarded to Ottawa.

Mr. Isley is to take the question up with lending institutions operating under the National Housing Act, and will report on the progress of his negotiations.

Provisions of the Judicature Act which will not apply to NHA loans, according to terms of the new bill, are as follows: a section making the time for redemption in a mortgage action one year, unless reduced or enlarged by the court; a section which restricts the right of the mortgagee to foreclosure and provides that no action shall lay on the covenant for payment in the mortgage.

A section which directs a sale of the land in all cases where there is no redemption and provides that after a foreclosure order no money is recoverable under the mortgage, and a further section which refers to actions brought before Feb. 16, 1940, and confines the remedy to the land itself.

CLAUSE WON'T APPLY A provision of the Land Titles Act which will not apply to the NHA loans makes void an agreement whereby a mortgagor becomes the tenant of the mortgagee, commonly known as a "stipulation clause," except in cases of mortgages to the Farm Loan Board and to mortgages on houses where the form of mortgage is approved by the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

A former section of the Land Titles Act is restored by section 3 of the new bill. The new legislation modifies terms of The Vendors' and Mortgagees' Costs Act, and follows certain costs provided or approved under the National Housing Act.

The bill provides that the Mechanics Lien Act, as it stood prior to March 30, 1940, shall apply to NHA loans in Alberta. Certain amendments made on that date which affected a mortgagee's security by preventing the foreclosing of a lien under the Mechanics Lien Act are not to apply.

The act is to come into force upon the day upon which it is assented to by the lieutenant-governor.

3 Miles Across River

Allies Across Rhine In Victory Offensive

Rhine assault in the British sectors and opposition to them was reported only moderate in most sectors.

Specialty-Trained Troops Used

Many of the troops were specially trained and they moved across to the smoking bomb-pocked far bank of the Rhine in landing craft, ducks, assault boats, buffaloes and some still secret amphibious craft.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 Allied warplanes participated in the airborne strike behind the German lines. It was the greatest airborne operation in history and field dispatches said miles-long sky trains were shifting over the battlefield to unload their cargoes of men, tanks and guns in the enemy's rear.

At Wesel, the Allied ground troops were 285 miles east of Berlin and astride the great northern German plain extending all the way to the enemy capital. Facing them were an estimated 15 to 20 thinned-out German divisions, numbering perhaps 150,000 to 200,000 men.

(Berlin's DNB news agency broadcast an urgent appeal to the German people to stand fast in the face of the Allied breakthrough and declared that "everything is at stake" in the battle of the Rhine.)

Ten thousand square miles of Germany's Ruhr valley and Westphalian plains, stretching back 150-odd miles beyond the Rhine, were littered with flaming wreckage from Allied air fleet raids.

PARATROOPS BATTLERS

Throughout the area thousands of British and American sky troops of the Allied First Army showered down behind the German defenders. Miles-long trains of gliders streamed across the Rhine all morning, landing infantrymen on enemy fields and scattering paratroopers across the countryside.

Veterans of the British Second and U.S. Ninth Armies crossed the Rhine in assault boats from a number of solid bridgeheads in the 12-mile sector between Rees and Wesel. Wesel is 30 miles north of Dusseldorf and 143 miles north of the Rhine-Ruhr confluence.

The British started the attack in bright moonlight late Friday night, striking behind a "Monty" barrage. At two a.m. the Ninth Army swept across the river, apparently south of Wesel, and won its crossing.

FIRM FOOTHOLDS

By dawn both armies had won firm footholds on the east bank of the river and the parade of troop-carrying gliders continued.

This was history's third and greatest crossing of the Rhine. Montgomery's troops were following in the path of Caesar's and Napoleon's on a high invasion road that headquarters observers predicted finally would end in Berlin within a month.

Once through the hard core of 24-Reuters—Field M a r s n e l—and part of that objective appeared to have been attained in the first rush—the Allies were expected to meet only the thinnest enemy resistance.

BUILD BRIDGES

Pontoon bridges already were going up over the Rhine in the wake of the advancing infantry and thousands of grinning eager troops were moving in to get it over with.

Wesel, one of the first British objectives on the east bank of the Rhine, was cleared of all but a handful of Nazi paratroopers early this morning.

Scottish troops of the 5th Royal Tank Regiment, veterans of Libya and Normandy, burst into Wesel at nine p.m. last night and routed the shell-shocked Germans from their cellar hideouts at balcony point.

The first returning pilots from a force of Liberators that dropped supplies to the airborne forces reported that a "colossal" battle was raging on the Westphalian plain near Wesel.

Farther to the south, however, the American Ninth Army appeared to be meeting lighter initial opposition, and the airborne troops to the east also were believed to have taken their first objective.

Prime Minister Churchill visited Montgomery's headquarters last night to watch unfold the great offensive that he himself described as the "last heavy" to knock Germany out of the war.

United Kingdom, Canadian and American troops alike went over the river with a rush behind a dense smoke screen that hid them until they were on top of the German defenders.

Then the barrage lifted and the struction of the national economy in accordance with their wishes, and

"Fifth, establish an armed world dictatorship wielding absolute power.

UTTERLY OPPOSED "We are utterly opposed," went on Mr. Blackmore, "to the establishment of any international organization which involves the surrender of an effective national sovereignty to a central authority vested with power over parliament, and the legislatures of Canada, and able to enforce its dictates by economic sanctions, and the use of force."

To lead up to this denunciation, Mr. Blackmore said that it will be argued that the Dumbarton Oaks proposals specifically provided that each nation is to have its sovereignty.

"But what is the use of talking nonsense like that?" he said, "when you at once proceed to set up an organization where it is impossible for any nation to have its sovereignty. It will be argued, he went on, that the Dumbarton Oaks proposal envisaged the control of each individual state of its military forces until it surrenders it."

"But there will be such mechanism set up in this new arrangement, including Dumbarton Oaks, UNRRA, the monetary funds, the international bank, and all the rest, that such pressure will be brought to bear on any nation which hesitates to surrender the control of its forces that these forces in order to submit."

CLAIMS SURRENDER "Thus we find," he said, "that the policy that the government is asking this house to approve involves the surrender of Canada to an international authority of all effective sovereignty and the concentration of power in an alien-dominated international group, over first, our economic policy; second—through this, our political policy; and third—of the armed forces."

"In short, the power of the proposed international authority will be absolute: every vestige of effective democracy will be destroyed and Canada will become a vassal state under an over-ruling international dictatorship."

"The British Commonwealth will be swallowed up in a federal conglomerate of servile states; the relationship of this parliament to the world authority would be that of a Canadian village council today to this parliament."

"We would have a world totalitarian dictatorship fastened upon us, until conditions became so intolerable that universal revolt would destroy it, and the design of the planners of this whole setup is that when this universal revolt occurs, there will be fastened upon the people in their helplessness and uncertainty and chaotic condition, another dictatorship which will be one of military power."

WIN FIRST ROUND There were no immediate details on the progress of the offensive, but heavily-censored front dispatches and German broadcasts made it clear that Lt. Gen. Sir Miles Dempsey's British Second Army had secured a foothold east of the Rhine and won the first round of the battle.

Dempsey's men kicked off late last night behind a terrible artillery barrage that beat the German river defences into smoking ruins. They swept across the river in assault boats, bayoneted the Nazi survivors from their pillboxes, and advanced on land on what was described officially as a broad front.

German military spokesmen said the British struck on both sides of Wesel. There they were astride the main roads to Muenster, 48 miles to the northeast, and the broad north German plain which sweeps eastward 285 miles to Berlin.

GREAT AIR BLOWS Montgomery's offensive, which Allied leaders predicted confidently would end in Berlin with the complete destruction of German military power, kicked off in brilliant sunshine that promised a day of frightful air bombardment for the hard-pressed Nazi armies.

Waves of RAF and Canadian heavy bombers blanketed the Ruhr and its supporting communications lines with explosives throughout the night, guided to their targets by towering fires raging over a 10,000 square mile patch of western Germany.

As Montgomery's armies and the Allied sky troops struck in the north, the entire southern half of the Rhine front was bursting into flame.

The U.S. First Army struck out to the north, east and south from its bridgehead across the Rhine on the southern flank of the Ruhr, and Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's American Third Army won a new foothold on the east bank of the river. Berlin placed Patton's crossing in the Oppenheim area, 10 miles south of Mainz and 142 miles south-east of the Wesel bridgehead.

Patton's men won their foothold almost without firing a shot in a surprise crossing Thursday night that placed his tank columns barely 270 miles southeast of Berlin.

German spokesmen said Patton's forces were battling for another Rhine breakthrough 22 miles farther south near Ludwigshafen, and they reported still another crossing thrust by the U.S. Ninth Army massed along the river opposite the Ruhr valley.

Forty-eight per cent of all patents submitted for approval by the U.S. Patent Office in a recent 12-year period were turned down.

sult to human intelligence to say other nations could not be induced to co-operate the same way.

The Social Creditiers did not oppose international co-operation, but rather the method now proposed. The Social Creditiers, he said, would support an international organization "under which each nation retains its complete sovereignty to order its affairs in accordance with the will of the people, and undertakes to maintain adequate armed forces."

"Each power," he said, "undertakes in this plan to go to the aid of any other member of the association of nations who is the victim of armed aggression."

In reply to interruptions, he said the reason the old league did not go to the aid of Ethiopia, was because the members "did not have the backbone, and the strength."

Fourth—He said "each member (in this Social Credit scheme) undertakes to prohibit its nationals from owning or controlling any property or economic undertaking in another sovereign country—that is one of the most important measures."

Fifth—Each nation undertakes not to export goods to any other nation except in payment for imports from that nation, without the consent of that nation's government.

Finally, each state undertakes to receive payment in goods and services for any debt owing its nationals.

"All you need," declared Mr. Blackmore, "is good neighborly sincere faith and honesty in approaching facts as they are in the world."

east of the Rhine in the Wesel area were dotted with Allied gliders.

"The entire German countryside east of the Rhine was afire, and you could see gun flashes in every direction," said a returning pilot.

Another observer said hundreds of Allied fighters were diving and gunning over a "tremendous battle."

"The ground surface east of the Rhine was covered by planes that looked like gliders," he said.

HOURS-LONG FORCE Observers at Folkestone said an hours-long glider tow force flew over the straits in brilliant sunshine. Fighters darted around their flanks in strong force.

One observer said the air formations spread over a wide area, and it appeared that "thousands of planes were overhead. They included two-colored and four-colored tow planes in formations up to 50 flying low with Spitfires wheeling protectively overhead."

Harry Hickingbotham, British United Press correspondent at Folkestone, reports:

"Crowds gathered on the sea front beginning at dawn to watch

Of Security Council Warns People Won't Consent To Use Armed Forces Abroad Without Voice in Decisions

By CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, March 24.—The people of Canada will never consent to having their armed forces sent to fight anywhere in the world by a security council on which they have no voice in its decisions, asserted W. A. Tucker, Liberal, Rosthern, in speaking Friday afternoon on the San Francisco United Nations conference.

"Just as the Canadian people are not willing to have the parliament at Westminster drag Canada into a war to defend the interests of Great Britain anywhere in the world," said Mr. Tucker, "just as we strictly reserve the right to ourselves to say what we ourselves shall decide, whether we shall engage in any war, then surely if we have no say in the decision of the security council, we are not going to have our armed forces sent abroad to fight at the behest of people over whom we have no control, and who do not represent us in any way whatsoever."

"That is only common sense, and it seems to me it is time it should be said in this house."

OFFERS SOLUTION

Mr. Tucker said he would propose a solution in this way, if it is necessary to leave these powers in the hands of the security council for quick action against an aggressor, then it should be provided that before any nation not represented on the security council is to be expected to send its armed forces to fight in a cause which the security council has espoused, there should be a two-thirds vote of the general assembly in which every nation of the world is represented.

"That would not prevent the security council from acting quickly in putting great forces in opposition to an aggressor, but it would mean that other nations not represented on the council would feel that they would not be expected to be bound by the council's decision unless they so wished," he declared.

A strong defence of the Bretton Woods international financial conference decision also was uttered by Mr. Tucker in vigorously supporting the government decision to participate in the international conference at San Francisco. Mr. Tucker, who attended Bretton Woods conference, strongly repudiated statements by Victor Quelch, Social Credit, Acadia, that the Bretton

Woods act would saddle the world with the gold standard again.

NOT TIED DOWN

"Lord Keynes," he said, "in speaking in the House of Lords before going to Bretton Woods, definitely understood that so far as Britain was concerned, anything they agreed to would not mean that Britain was tied down to the gold standard again."

"If there was one thing on which assurance was sought, and assurance was given, it was that very thing. It was the thing about which the British delegation at the conference were more concerned than any other. I am satisfied that if Lord Keynes, the most outstanding economist in the world today, is satisfied, as he has to be, that Bretton Woods does not mean the tying down of the nations of the world today to the gold standard, then it should be satisfactory and sufficient to the average man."

Mr. Tucker also roundly condemned a previous speaker, John G. Diefenbaker, Conservative, Lake Centre, for saying there had been an unfavorable reaction in the United States to Canada's policy in regard to sending men beyond the territorial limits of Canada, until recently.

"If there is not an attitude (in the United States) in favor of Canada today," declared Mr. Tucker, "it is due to one thing more than any other, the unfortunate statements of his own leader which have been reproduced all over the United States."

TALKED TO DELEGATES

At Bretton Woods, Mr. Tucker said, he had talked to practically all the members of the United States delegation, and other U. S. citizens present.

"I can say," he declared, "that there was no country held in higher regard by the people of the United States; no country whose war effort and contribution was held in higher respect than that of their Canadian neighbor. If there has been any damage done, it has been due to the unfortunate statements of his (Mr. Diefenbaker's) own leader."

"The reinforcement crisis," put in Gordon Graydon, Progressive-Conservative house leader.

"As a member of the Canadian Army, during the last war, and during this war," returned Mr. Tucker, "I resent the implications that have been thrown upon the good name of the soldiers of Canada, when it was said that there was wholesale mutiny and insubordination. I think the time will come when the leader of that party will bitterly regret those statements, as I am sure many of his followers throughout the country resent them today."

Mr. Tucker went on to say that if the nations of the world do think that Canada by her great contribution to the war has earned a permanent seat on the security council of the United Nations, "it does not lie in the mouth of any member to suggest that she is not entitled to it."

Mr. Diefenbaker said, "That statement was never made or inferred by me."

Mr. Tucker said that apparently Mr. Diefenbaker did not mean what he understood him to say and he was glad to hear that he did not.

Discussing the resolution, Mr. Tucker said several things were clear.

The Dumbarton Oaks proposals were not perfect, but one thing clear is that the proposed peace organization will have the strength and machinery to see to it that Germany and Japan do not again menace the peace of the world. Next the organization undoubtedly will be able to make sure that none of the smaller nations of the world will be able to start a war which might endanger world peace.

Third, the organization will set up means for international co-operation among the different nations to promote their economic well-being.

All these were to the good; it was unfortunate perhaps that any one of the big five on the council could veto any action being taken against itself for aggression. But wars ensue when victorious alliances fall apart. Their solidarity ensures peace.

The thing to bear in mind was the lesson of the old league. People thought they had outlawed war for all time, which led them to weaken themselves, so that aggressor nations felt they could start a war with success—that should not be forgotten.

PROMOTE TRADE

The new organization could promote international trade in which Canada has a greater interest than probably any other nation in the world as thirty per cent of her income was derived from exports. It could control international cartels which exploited peoples before the war and which they could not reach.

Bretton Woods, he said, is setting up an international bank for reconstruction and development . . . of the devastated and backward nations to put the credit of the world behind their rebuilding, and to establish some sort of system of temporary balances in international trade to take the place of the old gold standard. (At this point he repudiated Mr. Quelch's previous attack on Bretton Woods.)

Another thing the international organization could do, would be to regulate prices of basic commodities which in the past had thrown nations out of balance by over-producing primary products.

"If the nations of the world," he said, "will get together and agree on basic levels for basic commodities such as wheat, beef, nickel and other products, the well-being, not only of the primary producing nations, but the nations of the world will be greatly promoted. That can only be done by international action."

Tory Speaker Pays Premier High Tribute

By CHESTER BLOOM

OTTAWA, March 24.—Supporting wholeheartedly the government resolution to send a non-partisan or mixed party delegation to the United Nations conference at San Francisco, John G. Diefenbaker, Conservative, Lake Centre, Saskatchewan, former leader of the Conservative party in that province, paid a high tribute to Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King.

"I am glad of one thing," said Mr. Diefenbaker, "during the last few days, the press of this nation and of the United States has indicated that a distinguished Canadian may be chairman of the San Francisco conference, the greatest world constitutional convention that will ever have been assembled. That course, if followed, will be commended by all Canadians irrespective of party, as a tribute to Canada and her contribution in this and in the last war."

Mr. Diefenbaker said, "That statement was never made or inferred by me."

Mr. Tucker said that apparently Mr. Diefenbaker did not mean what he understood him to say and he was glad to hear that he did not.

Discussing the resolution, Mr. Tucker said several things were clear.

The Dumbarton Oaks proposals were not perfect, but one thing clear is that the proposed peace organization will have the strength and machinery to see to it that Germany and Japan do not again menace the peace of the world. Next the organization undoubtedly will be able to make sure that none of the smaller nations of the world will be able to start a war which might endanger world peace.

Third, the organization will set up means for international co-operation among the different nations to promote their economic well-being.

All these were to the good; it was unfortunate perhaps that any one of the big five on the council could veto any action being taken against itself for aggression. But wars ensue when victorious alliances fall apart. Their solidarity ensures peace.

The thing to bear in mind was the lesson of the old league. People thought they had outlawed war for all time, which led them to weaken themselves, so that aggressor nations felt they could start a war with success—that should not be forgotten.

Promote trade. The new organization could promote international trade in which Canada has a greater interest than probably any other nation in the world as thirty per cent of her income was derived from exports. It could control international cartels which exploited peoples before the war and which they could not reach.

Bretton Woods, he said, is setting up an international bank for reconstruction and development . . . of the devastated and backward nations to put the credit of the world behind their rebuilding, and to establish some sort of system of temporary balances in international trade to take the place of the old gold standard. (At this point he repudiated Mr. Quelch's previous attack on Bretton Woods.)

Another thing the international organization could do, would be to regulate prices of basic commodities which in the past had thrown nations out of balance by over-producing primary products.

"If the nations of the world," he said, "will get together and agree on basic levels for basic commodities such as wheat, beef, nickel and other products, the well-being, not only of the primary producing nations, but the nations of the world will be greatly promoted. That can only be done by international action."

Mr. Diefenbaker expressed some fear that the prime minister's statement that any military commitments made by Canada to send men outside the country at the behest of the security council must first be approved by parliament, might be interpreted as a return to isolationism. He thought the prime minister should be "clear and unequivocal" on that point.

"Middle power." The Lake Centre member said he wanted to know if there was any move on the part of Canada to ask for a permanent seat on the security council as a "middle power" based on a high minimum of force to be contributed by Canada.

"So far as these middle powers are concerned," he said, "it looks to be like trouble ahead. If our delegation goes to San Francisco and starts shaking up the nations of the world, saying to one that it is in a lower class, to a second that it is in the middle class, and to a third that it is in a higher class, it will spell disaster in advance."

"But that is not the view expressed, as I understood it, the other day by the prime minister. Our attitude during the war has been that we have developed into one of the larger of the small nations and will become the leader among the small nations."

"Will Canada become a leader among small nations if the policy she adopts is that she will not allow any of her manpower to be sent beyond the confines of the Dominion without parliamentary sanction—unless every time they are ordered beyond our borders after the first agreement has been adopted, there must first be a declaration of parliament in that regard?"

"Are we in Canada not only going to be asked to approve first of what is decided in San Francisco and, secondly, of what agreements we may enter into with the security council but, finally from time to time as difficulties arise in other parts of the world, shall we be required in parliament to affirm the right of these men to go beyond the confines of parliament?"

SHAKY FOUNDATION
"If so, we are building on a foundation that will destroy this security council in advance."

"One cause of great friction between Canada and the United States has been the undoubted reaction in that country unfavorable to Canada's policy in regard to the sending of men and the use of her manpower beyond the confines and the territorial limits of the Dominion until very recently. Are we going to carry that on?"

In conclusion, Mr. Diefenbaker said that in spite of the setting up of an international organization, "I believe that we must maintain collective security within the Commonwealth as well."

He said that between 1931 and 1939, Canada had to depend on the collective security of the Commonwealth.

COMMON ALLEGIANCE
Until we in the Commonwealth, under a common allegiance, obtain a solidarity that has not been ours before in the matter of collective security, we cannot expect a broader co-operation from without."

"As I see the situation, without a strong Commonwealth there can be no Canada strong politically or economically," he asserted.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that a Gallup poll in November, 1943, showed that 54 per cent of Canadians interviewed would support "an Empire council such as that then advocated by Mr. Curtin and only 26 per cent were opposed; that in March 27, 1944, another Gallup poll showed that 55 per cent of Canadians interviewed favored a united Empire policy as against 39 per cent opposed."

Dear

March 21

Spring officially arrived this week. And the weather was all that could be desired for the occasion. In fact, all this week it has been mild, with just a trace of rain on one or two occasions, and skies overcast about as frequently. Snow has disappeared rapidly and there is little to be seen about the city.

However, there is likely to be some unpleasant weather even before April arrives. But we are hoping for the best, and also we are not forgetting that March came in like a lion, and therefore, should depart like a docile lamb.

We are more than elated over the marvellous results achieved by you and your gallant Allies on the Western Front, and we want you to know that we are behind you foursquare at all times.

It is hoped, and expected we will give renewed testimony on this point when the 8th Victory Loan opens.

Here are some highlights of the week's events.

March 19

The City of Edmonton had a surplus of $12,895.53 on 1944 operations, according to civic figures. The 1945 estimates anticipate revenues aggregating $3,217,472 to carry on the city's business, exclusive of the five utilities. Of this amount $3,559,139 will accrue from the 49½ mill rate, and it is expected that $1,658,333 will come from other sources. The 1945 estimated revenue is $39,912 in excess of the actual of $5,177,560.33 collected in 1944. Expenditures in 1944 amounted to $5,164,665.40.

Declaring that establishment of a French-Canadian Association in Alberta, for which a petition now is before the Legislature, would constitute a "highly dangerous precedent in Alberta and open the way for disunity rather than unity," the congregation of McDonald Baptist church on Sunday unanimously adopted a resolution urging the Provincial government to take every step possible to insure continued preservation of the unity of Alberta citizens.

Moose Jaw Canucks may consider themselves somewhat fortunate that they were able to take a 6-4 decision from Edmonton Canadians in the second game of the Abbott Cup semi-finals at the Arena on Saturday night, before an excited crowd of 5,600 fans. The Canadians entered the third frame trailing by the lop-sided score of 1-5. Then they unleashed a furious attack in which they outplayed and outscored the Moose Jaw squad. Canadians ran in three while Moose Jaw tallied once. However, Canadians had delayed their spurt too long, and the visitors had sufficient margin to work on to save them.

Edmonton Athletic Club won the Northern Alberta juvenile hockey championship at the Arena by scoring a 9-1 victory over the 78th (Reserve) Battery of Red Deer. It was the second straight win for EAC, the score of the first being 8-6.

Approximately $1,800,000 will be spent from renewed reserve accounts of the city's five utilities during the current year. It is proposed to set aside out of 1945 earnings $1,280,000 which, with the carry-over from 1944, will leave a balance of $3,608,137 available for extensions of these utilities. The expenditure of $1,759,210 contemplated in 1945 will leave a carry-over into next year of $1,848,927.

March 20

Estimates of 14 civic departments aggregating $1,423,765 were given tentative approval at a special meeting of city council. Also tentatively approved were city engineers' department estimates of $1,286,000.

Plans are nearly complete for the opening at Grande Prairie of the first composite high school in Alberta, Hon. R. Earl Ansley, minister of education, has informed the Legislature.

Only from 10 to 20 per cent of landlords or tenants try to chisel or beat established rentals, according to George J. Bryan, K.C., regional rental officer. He made the statement in addressing a regular meeting of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council. Close to 90 per cent of all persons concerned are co-operative and try to fulfill conditions of rental control regulations. "This job definitely is a headache, but despite many difficulties I believe we are succeeding in smoothing out the peaks and hollows," he said.

It would cost the Province of Alberta more than $2,000,000 a year to hospitalize persons suffering from cancer, according to Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health.

Estimated gross expenditures for 1945 amounting to $70,250 for the Edmonton Public Library were approved by members of the Library Board when they met Monday evening. The Board will ask the city for $63,350, the amount above the estimated revenue required to carry on the Library.

There were 1,620 motor vehicle accidents in Alberta last year in which property damage was in excess of $25, according to a report tabled in the Legislature by Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary. There were 1,872 accidents in the same category in 1943. Fatal auto accidents in 1944 totalled 41, against 66 in 1943.

Ninety-two blind or deaf Alberta children were given special training in various Canadian institutions during 1944, according to information made available by the education department. A total of $42,441 was spent by the government for this work during the year.

Interest is increasing rapidly in Canada's national physical fitness, and six of the provinces now are actively co-operating with the Dominion and three others are interested, according to Ian Eisenhardt, national director of physical fitness, who is a city visitor.

The Dominion government will be asked to deduct teachers' summer school expenses from their gross taxable incomes in computing income tax assessments, according to the terms of a resolution passed in the Legislature.

Payment of the consumers bonus by Provincial government treasury branches will terminate April 30, according to Premier Ernest Manning. He said money saved by elimination of the bonus would go toward expansion of the treasury branch system as a whole.

Appreciation of the service performed by the city's travelling Public Library was expressed at the meeting of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council.

Buildings at the University of Alberta used by the RCAF in connection with the operation of No. 4 ITS, which closed last November, have been returned to the university, according to Dr. Robert Newton, president. As the current university year ends in May the buildings will not be put into use for the students immediately, but will be re-conditioned and made ready for the opening of the annual summer school in July.

W. H. McKinnon, Neil R. Campbell and R. C. Sheldon have been named directors of the Gyro Club for the 1945-46 term.

The Moose Jaw Canucks on their home ice handed Edmonton Canadians their third straight defeat in the best-of-seven series in the semi-final of the Abbott Cup, emblematic of Western Canada junior hockey supremacy, by the score of 6-3. Moose Jaw won the first two games, played here, by 5-2 and 6-4. Canadians are determined to stay in the fight and will be trying hard until the final whistle of the series blows.

In a nip and tuck battle at the Arena, Highlands won the Canadian Athletic Club Pee-Wee hockey championship by edging out West End by the score of 2-1 in overtime.

March 22

Alberta's Reserve Army units will go into Sarsce Camp, near Calgary, for their annual training period from July 8 to 22. Col. E. R. Knight, ED, officer commanding the 41st (Reserve) Brigade Group, will be camp commandant, with Capt. A. E. Howard as staff captain. In the last few years the camp has been split into two sections, with half the units going to each. This year only one period will be held, with the entire strength of units attending at once.

The part played by Canadians in the D-Day operations was told to the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce by Brig. R. A. "Bob" Wyman, CBE, DSO, ED, at a MacDonald hotel meeting. He outlined many of the difficulties encountered and the manner in which they were surmounted. He declared that "The Western Canadian soldier is the best we've got. He's a marvellous fellow." Of The Royal Edmonton Regiment, Brig. Wyman said it was "superb."

Similar sentiments were expressed by Maj. Bruce Massie, who returned today after more than three years overseas service in the Royal Canadian Artillery. He said the Canadians are "tough" and are recognized as such all over Western Europe.

City council holding a special meeting tentatively approved estimates for the various civic departments, the operational and construction estimates of the five utilities, miscellaneous expenditures, hospital grants and donations. The civic departmental estimates ratified, amounted to $1,657,170; miscellaneous expenditures $136,438, and grants to hospitals and donations $134,820. Gross expenditures of $7,362,396 were approved for the utilities on operation account, with the anticipated revenue for 1945 placed at $6,964,807.

March 23

Destruction of surplus war goods which could be put to direct or indirect use, or could be sent to needy persons in war-devastated countries, is being protested by the Alberta Legislature.

The Dominion government will be asked by the Alberta Legislature to extend the preference for post-war employment in the civil service to include veterans who enlisted for service anywhere.

Payment of the $2,000 seasonal indemnity to any member of the Legislature who has not attended the current session due to being on active service will be made as a result of an amendment to the Legislative Assembly Act, introduced by Hon. Lucien Meunier, K.C., attorney-general.

Moose Jaw eliminated Edmonton Canadians from play for the Abbott Cup, emblematic of the Western Canada junior hockey championship, by winning a last contest 6-2 at Moose Jaw. The Canucks, Saskatchewan champions, had won the previous three games of a best-of-seven series.

In the current year the Northern Alberta Railways plans to spend about $1,000,000 on improvements and general maintenance, according to J. M. MacArthur, general manager. Improvements include the laying of heavy rail in the territory both east and west of McLennan. This work was started last year and 55 miles of heavy rail was laid from Kinuso to west of High Prairie. This year's work will complete the gap between High Prairie and McLennan, and reach as far beyond that point as possible.

The amount of work done under the proposed program will depend on the amount of labor and material available.

That's all for now.

Best of everything until next week.

Dollars Save Lives

In the storming of the French coast last summer more than 50,000 Allied fighting men were so badly wounded they had to be taken to England to be treated. Of that great number only 200 failed to recover. That tells in figures the story of the miracles which doctors and nurses and hospitals and medicine performed on that occasion.

And they are doing like miracles all the time. Seventy per cent of the soldiers who incur stomach wounds are saved, and one-fourth are able to go back into service. Ninety per cent of those wounded in lungs or head survive, and ninety-five per cent of those where amputation is necessary. The man injured in battle now has nine-to-one chances for survival. The percentage lost through disease is even smaller.

These are things to remember when deciding how much to contribute to the Red Cross appeal for funds.

The Upset at Toronto

Liberals and other opposition members joined OCF members in the Ontario legislature to defeat Premier Drew's government. The resolution of censure said, among other things, that the government had failed to co-operate with the government of the Dominion and those of other provinces.

"Failed" is a mild word. It carries the implication that an effort was made which did not succeed. Premier Drew never made any effort in the direction of co-operation. He has pursued a studied and steady policy of inciting race antagonism, aimed at weakening the federal government in Ontario while the secession-mongers were attacking it in Quebec. Having promoted collusion between extremists for political ends, he came into the due reward when divergent groups in the legislature combined to defeat him.

Whatever follows immediately, a general election is in prospect, and is the only means to regularize the situation. Mr. Drew never had a majority in the legislature. He was only able to carry on with the forbearance of the opposing groups. Since they are no longer willing to support him, and neither has sufficient strength to maintain an alternative government, the electors will have to be invited to end the deadlock.

Safety First

Every person hopes there will never again be a situation in Canada resembling that of ten years ago. Most people are confident that a repeat visitation can be avoided. But no one really knows that it will not happen again.

The Family Allowances arrangement is a "safety first" measure, adopted to help avert another depression and to ease the impact if one should come.

Most families in Canada are able to take care of themselves at present, and will be while present employment and business conditions continue. But even now there are a minority who find the going hard, and their numbers would multiply should depressed conditions return. To people in low income brackets the allowances will be immediately welcome; and should the unwanted and unexpected happen, the benefits will be immeasurably greater and more widely felt.

The allowances are not to be simply paid to the head of a family to use as he may please. The money must go to the proper feeding, clothing and schooling of children. But in doing this, the added income will indirectly better and safeguard the standing of the family as a unit.

It is to the public advantage, as well as that of the children, that the allowances should be earmarked in this way. Of all the evil results of the bad times of the last decade, the worst was the effect upon the children in the home whose income had ceased. Should like conditions ever recur, the monthly grants will help to save another generation of children from the same experience.

What Price Democracy?

More than 100,000 German soldiers were taken prisoner in the Saar, no figures being given of the killed or wounded. Berlin reported that three Russian armies were heading from Silesia toward Vienna—and the Berchtesgaden hang-out—with four more moving in from Hungary. Kesselring replaced Rundstedt in command of the western front defenses, probably because the latter had been killed or injured in an air raid. A smoke screen, hanging for days over the northern sector, was taken to mean that Marshal Montgomery's armies were ready to cross the Rhine. Seven thousand Allied planes strove bombs from Bremen to the Ruhr, over far interior points, and on Berlin for the 31st night running. Joseph Sturz, commissioner of agriculture, bluntly told the people of Germany they must go on a vegetable diet, "pushing meat still farther into the background." Enemy prisoners of war, with almost no exceptions, admit that the war has been lost when they consent to say anything on the subject. A pocket of 45,000 German troops was wiped out in the Breslau area, a third being captured, two-thirds killed.

These items of a single day show the kind of news that is breaking day after day on the nervous organisms of the people in the Reich. And it was not a particularly bad day from their standpoint; there have been far more harrowing budgets during the past month. No mention is made of the destruction of industries and homes which goes on day and night as it has been for weeks.

The Germans are practical, none more so. They know what all this adds up to; defeat, and after defeat long years of grinding labor and struggle to rebuild what is being ruined. Why don't they give up and stop piling up misery and hardship for themselves? There is only one answer that lies within reason. They are in the grip of a despotism which they cannot break and dare not defy.

If the world needed an illustration of the priceless value of the freedom that is only to be found in a democracy, that illustration is drawn in blood across the length and breadth of Germany.

Moscow has notified Ankara that the treaty of 1925 needs revising. Whatever Russia wants that Turkey does not want to concede, the Turks will quickly infer that they did not line up with the Allies soon enough or decisively enough to impress Stalin with their zeal for the destruction of the Axis.

Premier Koiso of Japan is in the running for first place among the optimists of the day. He told the Diet that Japan is to launch an offensive which will sweep the Allies out of the lost islands from Iwo Jima to Guadalcanal and restore the flag of the rising sun to supremacy in the southwest Pacific. There's a man with imagination, and rare talent for extricating himself from embarrassing realities and soaring into the realm of joyful anticipation. But it must be an awful shock to be brought back from dreamland by the crash of exploding bombs, the rumble of collapsing buildings, and billows of smoke which denote that more square miles of Tokyo are turning into ashes.

Now given the "bart" and the willingness to let it drain itself freely, it is not very difficult to find willing workers and Mr. Cochrane apparently found them. Of course, we do not institute for one moment that such high-minded gentlemen as Senator Loughheed and Mr. T. W. ### Protest

Editor, Bulletin: We the Social Credit people of Lloydminster and district view with alarm the bill now before the Alberta government asking for a charter to set up a French Canadian Association in Alberta with the object in view of establishing a radio station for the French language for a very small minority or only six per cent of our total population.

Knowing this to be an English-speaking province and it to be made up of many nationalities, the granting of special privileges to any one group of people will only tend to disunity.

Therefore, be it resolved that we, the supporters of the Social Credit government of Alberta, go on record as being definitely opposed to granting special privileges to any group or race of people within Alberta and that a copy of this be forwarded to Hon. E. C. Manning, Mr. S. A. Berg, M.L.A., Edmonton Bulletin, Edmonton Journal and Social Credit paper of Edmonton.

Addressed by the executive of the Social Credit group of the Social Credit Association of Canada, at a meeting held on Monday, March 19th, 1945.

S. J. FISHER, Secretary.

One Language

Editor, Bulletin: I was exceedingly gratified that Mr. Harold Weir dealt with the proposed bill to incorporate "The French-Canadian Association of Alberta" so ably in Saturday's issue of your paper. Personally, as I trust, a Canadian big enough to hope that the mother-tongue of every non-Anglo-Saxon will be a prized possession, but a possession held in affection to the language of Canada itself. I can see nothing but hope, less bickering and strife in such an incorporation.

Teach Children Good Health

But Don't Allow Them to Fear Minor Ailments or Doctors

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Do you have a poker face when you suspect a member of your family of not being in perfect health?

Fear is contagious. Habits of thought have much influence on health. If children are reared in an atmosphere of dread, of fear, their health will surely suffer.

In their anxiety mothers often keep their children in a state of fear about their health and so bring upon the children and themselves the thing they so much feared: illness.

How many times have you heard mothers breed fear with these kind of remarks:

"Put on another sweater. If you go out only that light one you will surely catch pneumonia."

"Here, change places with me because I'm sure you are in a draught."

"Come here, I want to take your temperature. Your eyes look dull, and you don't look well to me."

If a mother tried her level best she could not take a course that would more surely lead to the illness she dreaded. Teach a child to fear illness, to think of it often, to arrange his days in anticipation of should be the policy of any government to whose halls such a request comes, and I feel certain that this government will sense the difficulties which may arise when any and every group—if favors be granted to one—demand their own little garden-plot of disunity.

The use of any other language in Alberta—and we use them in our non-Anglo-Saxon work—is to interpret to those unable to speak our language the central thing in our Canadian life: "One throne, one flag, one language."

Knowing the mind of other immigrants who, like myself, came to Canada to share in its life, I am confident they want no special privileges such as this.

J. STEPHENS, Supt., United Church of Canada, All People's Mission, 10708 83 street.

Compulsory Service

Editor, Bulletin: There is a good deal of talk about compulsory military training in the post-war world. I have talked to a good number of my fellow-military personnel and we all agree it will only breed wars.

For example, the past has proven that people follow the leadership they are taught in their youth, especially if it is clamorous. We suggest if half the effort were spent on boycotting materials of war to belligerent countries, we would have no wars.

Surely we can exchange more practical produce to build these countries into peace-loving nations without jeopardizing the lives of the loved ones of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

Isolate the Japs

Editor, Bulletin: Here is a suggestion about the Japanese in Canada.

A Japanese never loses his nationality. Once a Japanese, always a Japanese. All Japanese children, no matter where born, are registered at home. They become thus Japanese, not Canadian citizens.

Professed loyalty to Canada is no proof of such loyalty. Unless a person of Japanese blood specifically refuses to qualify as a Japanese national and has a consistent record of such refusal he should not be allowed to live in Canada after the war.

The Japanese, before the war, had some 600 islands in the Pacific under mandate from the League of Nations. Choose one of these, large enough and with resources enough to provide a living for all Canada's Japanese. After the war, transfer Japanese to the island, using the funds to their credit now in the hands of the custodian of enemy property, to provide them with homes, machinery, buildings, seed and food for a year.

Establish a colony in reasonable comfort, help them generously as far as possible. There will never be a better opportunity. Their high standard of well-being always. Then there are the few children who are physically afflicted in one way or another. They were born with a handicap, which is most unfortunate but not fatal.

Deaf Edison, epileptic Caesar, blind Milton, club-footed Lord Byron, badly burned Glen Cunningham who was told he would never even walk again but he became the world's recordholder in the mile run—these are just a few of the tens of thousands of famous people who probably would never have attained eminence except for the daily prodding of a physical defect.

It is always best to teach a child, from the start, that his difficulty is going to bide with him and that he must learn to live with it and make it serve him as far as possible, or bear with it as graciously as he can.

It is useless to try to hide the misfortune. He sees it, feels it, suffers under its weight every day. Teach him how to live with it as a matter of course.

Never pity him. He hates it. He dislikes people who show pity for him in their faces, or voices. What he wants is acceptance. He wants to be taken along with the other children, to do what they do, in every way, to the extent of his ability and beyond it.

There is always a friendly child who will look out for the one that needs help and who won't be too obvious about it.

Thought has tremendous influence on health. So keep it set on a

The British Campaign In India

By B. T. RICHARDSON

WASHINGTON—Almost a forgotten war as far as the American public is concerned is the British campaign in Burma, yet it is beginning to furnish some of the key answers to future land campaigns in the Pacific war against Japan in which many American, British and Canadian troops will likely be engaged. The Burma campaign is by no means a minor campaign, in the opinion of Major A. Berkeley-Smith, a youthful British army officer who recently returned from that front. In the offensive which recaptured Arakan province of Burma from the Japanese, the Japanese army suffered the greatest defeat of its history, losing 50,000 men.

With the capture of Maymyo on the road from Lashio to Mandalay, the British have cut the last road out of central Burma for two Japanese armies, the 15th and the 33rd. The remnants of these armies, numbering about 50,000 men, are trapped. Some of them will get away by walking through the jungle to Thailand, but these armies are certain to be destroyed as fighting organizations.

All these developments, since the British went on the offensive on the Burma front last December, add up to a substantial defeat inflicted upon the Japanese army. What kind of soldier is the regular Japanese infantryman? Major Berkeley-Smith was with General Sir William Slim's British 24th army in Burma. The Jap, he said, is a stubborn customer. During the offensive in which the Japanese lost 30,000 men, the British took only 600 prisoners. Only one of these gave himself up, and he was an American-educated Japanese who came over to the British lines and said: "I want to join the honorable British empire." The other 599 Jap prisoners were diseased, most of them physically unable to commit suicide as many other trapped Japanese did. The old-fashioned Japanese hara-kiri became common among the trapped enemy in Burma. But the most telling detail of the physical and morale condition of the Japanese army in Burma was the finding of hundreds of Japanese dead of malaria.

The Japanese have none of the new drug for suppressing malaria which the Allies have developed. Malaria casualties were "enormous." At first the British troops, both European and native Indian, suffered heavily from malaria, but the new drug called "chloroquine" has greatly reduced the disease. However, hundreds of Japanese troops have been found dead from beri-beri, the disease to which rice-eating people are subject, which causes the patient to lose the power to drink water, so dying of thirst and starvation.

Virtually all the British operations in Burma have been supplied by air. The capture of Meiktila by a dash of 85-mile advance through the jungle, meant capture of air bases, and the outflanking of the Japanese southward from Mandalay. This had been followed by opening of four bridgeheads across the Irrawaddy River in the Mandalay area, and the British troops are fighting in Mandalay now. Air bases seized in this area, combined with bases seized at Akyab along the Arakan coast, will mean a fighter-cover for all airborne and seaborne landings in southern Burma, when the time comes.

Few campaigns in military history can have been more rugged than the Burma campaign. It ranks with the Australian campaign in New Guinea where at first, malaria casualties ran as high as 80 per cent. In the monsoon season in Burma, rainfall measures 60 inches a month (compared with between 20 and 30 inches a year in western Canada). The country is rice paddy fields and jungle, where a soldier cannot see more than five yards at times.

In its first eight months of operations, the British 14th army suffered 250,000 casualties from diseases, chiefly malaria and dysentery. In addition, a new drug has been developed to cure dysentery, saving thousands of casualties which would otherwise have to be hospitalized. So successful has been the malaria-suppressive drug that when Major Berkeley-Smith left the Burma front in January, out of 1,000 hospital cases only two were malaria patients.

Since last April, the 14th army has advanced a greater distance than that between Moscow and Berlin. This advance has been achieved in the most difficult fighting country in the world and thousands of the British and Indian soldiers of the 14th army have been engaged in active operations in Burma for more than three years, practically without a pause.

tional set-up specifically designed to teach—through actual experience in the classroom—the responsibilities as well as the privileges inherent in the democratic mode of government.

But from first-hand observation of many years, as well as personal experience in the classroom I assure you that it simply cannot be done where class loads run into the 40's and 50's. I have watched strong, enthusiastic teachers, expertly equipped, struggle valiantly (if vainly) to implement the very excellent enterprise course of study now some years old in Alberta. The sheer weight of numbers largely force an abandonment of the spirit of the course, and compel a return to the old "grade-grind-drill" methods, which will and do keep big classes occupied and busy.

If we as parents and society set up ideal conditions in the school which make the daily teaching and living of school room democracy impossible for the children, we must accept the fact that national democracy is doomed.

But if we realize the situation, and are willing to foot up the immediate costs involved, we will realize handsomely on our investment in education.

Yes, there will be increased costs for education. The day may even come when we as a city, or province, or nation actually spend more on the education of our own children than we spend on liquor! But the dividends of such expenditures will be handsomely worth while.

STANLEY H. CHURCHILL, South Edmonton.

Edmonton.

Education Investment

Editor, Bulletin: Your recent articles and editorials re costs of education are of deep interest.

The writer is in the fortunate (or unfortunate) position of being at the same time a taxpayer in Edmonton, a school principal, and a parent of children in an elementary school in this city.

As you have pointed out, enrollments do sometimes go as high as the 60 per room mark. But what is far more dangerous perhaps are the chronic overloads of 40, 45, 50—(I had myself a two-grade room in which the enrollment hit 55 last year). These figures are too common for remark and have come to be taken for granted by the parents, the public—and, alas, the school boards charged with administering the most solemn responsibility of our lives, the education of our children.

We beg to point out here that pigs, sheep or bullocks receive a protection under the law in this regard denied to our own children. When a livestock shipper crowds one animal too many into a truck or freight car, he is subject to swift and efficient administration of a stiff penalty. It is a punishable offence to carry animals on a cold day without a tarpaulin over the truck.

Yet we daily send hundreds of our children into cold, worn-out, obsolete, unsanitary schools overcrowded up to 100 per cent. overloads.

We are told that in England today the education department regards 25 pupils as a maximum load for any teacher, and that a load of 30 is considered both unsound and uneconomic.

I have in my desk a nation-wide FBI report published by Washington, D.C. a year ago, surveying the causes and prevention of juvenile delinquency across the U.S.A. One of the potent causes listed therein as contributing to the dangerous war-time rise in juvenile delinquency is overcrowding in junior high schools.

There are no "bargain values" in education!

In a democratic country, the future of business and government is in the hands of the generation now in the schools.

We have in Alberta an education

A woman decided to have the shape of her nose altered. So she called on a beauty-surgeon. "How much will you charge to alter the shape of my nose?" she asked. "A hundred guineas, madam." "A hundred guineas!" she exploded. "Isn't there something less expensive?" "Well," replied the surgeon, "you might try walking into a lamp-post."

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

JOHN OLIVER

FRED M. GEE, the Winnipeg concert impresario who co-operates with the Women's Musical Club in bringing the Celebrity Series of concerts here, has concluded his annual one-month pilgrimage to New York to see, hear, and engage artists for the season.

This was his 18th such trip. As has been his custom, he sends each year at the conclusion of his visit to a select circle of friends, a letter in which he records his impressions. This column has received a copy of the epistle which, as usual, is brimful of information, musical and otherwise, that intrigues the interest, and testifies that he is an observant and capable reporter.

On the question of the artists engaged for next year, he is silent, although there is no doubt that he knows who will come. However, we do not expect to have to wait long before knowing. But in the meantime it is pleasant to stroll with Mr. Gee through the streets, and on the sidewalks of New York.

He found theatres crowded and there was a lengthy waiting list of attractions. The Metropolitan Opera Association displayed the "old right out" sign for every performance. He heard "The Marriage of Figaro" with Bido Sayao, who has sung here twice in Celebrity Series concerts, and Hertha Glaz, young Viennese contralto, who was here several years ago. He also heard Puccini's "La Bohème" with Bido Sayao as Mimì, and Jan Peerce, who sang here last season, as Rodolfo. He heard six "Met" performances in all.

One of the other operas he heard was "Carmen" with Jennie Tourel in the title role and Raoul Jobin as Don Jose. Both are Canadians. Later he heard Miss Tourel in a recital. He was much impressed with her and wrote "Jennie Tourel"

PIANO, ORGAN, VOICE, VIOLIN, EXPRESSION, THEORY, GUITAR. Competent and Experienced Teachers. ALBERTA COLLEGE OF MUSIC. Phone 21464. 10041 101 Street.

SOLOIST—Miss Bernice McBeth, soprano, who will be the soloist at the Edmonton Philharmonic Society concert at the Empire theatre, commencing at 9:15 p.m. Sunday. She will sing the aria Ah, My Son from Meyerbeer's opera "The Prophet" and the song Whispers from the Vienna Woods, by Strauss-Korngold.

is now recognized as one of the greatest concert singers of our time. At the concert in question she sang in no less than six languages fluently. Canada may well be proud of Jennie Tourel.

Mr. Gee reports that "I spent many pleasant hours with artists during the past month. Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Odnoposoff entertained me at luncheon at the Russian restaurant next door to Carnegie Hall. This is a great meeting place for artists. Ross Pratt (of Winnipeg) was enjoying a cup of Russian tea when we entered. Mrs. Odnoposoff is a charming Viennese, and speaks little English as yet. Her husband talked about his Winnipeg and Edmonton concerts enthusiastically, and expressed his appreciation of the fine reception the audiences gave him. In talking to Mr. Odnoposoff about various musicians, I mentioned the name of Paul Robeson, as being one of the popular artists of the day. To my astonishment Mr. Odnoposoff said he had never heard of Robeson. . . . After all, Odnoposoff until recently had only lived in Europe and South America, where Robeson has not sung."

Mr. Gee was impressed with the number of excellent mezzo-sopranos in top-ranking places today, and he mentioned Edmonton-born Mona Pauline and Gladys Swarthout, both of whom have sung here, as well as Blanche Thebault and Martha Lipton. Jean Watson, contralto, who came here last fall, has been making considerable headway. She has been engaged by the Boston Symphony Orchestra to sing with it at Boston, and in three concerts on tour. He was deeply impressed with the playing of William Kapell, whom he described as "tops" among the younger pianists.

Among the other musicians with whom he came in contact and who are well known through appearing here were Mischa Elman, Alexander Uninsky, Michel Cherniavsky, Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson. He heard the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra in two concerts under Rodzinski, and was thrilled with Leopold Stokowski conducting the New York City Symphony Orchestra in an all-Russian program. Of course, "Stokie's" hands were a major attraction.

Mr. Gee further contributed a fund of information on other artists and happenings, and many side-lights on the life New Yorkers lead in seeking meat, cigarettes, matches and other articles, which moved him to remark that "I have come to the conclusion that Winnipeg is not such a bad place to live in after all." However, he found that liquor was unrationed and there was an ample supply of all desired brands. Also he found that "Sentiment toward Canadians is altogether friendly, and great appreciation is felt for what Canada has contributed to the war. Questions were often asked about the conscription issue and Quebec, naturally, but generally speaking, most people realize Canada's peculiar problem. The achievements of the First Canadian Army recently were headlined in all New York's daily press. Even the daily tabloids made this the main feature of their front pages for several days in February."

G. A. Kevan, organist and choristmaster of Robertson United Church, will be a Stettler visitor on Sunday, where he will play the dedicatory church services and recital on a new pipe organ installed at the Stettler United church. Mr. Kevan, who has been offered, and has accepted the post of organist and choristmaster of the church of St. John the Divine at Houston, Texas, also has been invited to conduct the chorus of the Women's Music Club of that city. The club has its own building and a grand piano, and other facilities which indicate to Mr. Kevan that this post will provide a splendid field for continuing his extra-religious activities.

Under the baton of Abe Fratin, the Edmonton Philharmonic Society will give its third concert of the season at the Empire theatre commencing at 9:15 p.m. tomorrow. The program is made up of fine and popular works, including the overture to Johann Strauss' opera, "The Gypsy Baron," Mozart's Symphony in G Minor, Brahms' Hungarian Dances Nos. 5 and 6, the Gluck-Brahms Gavotte, Schubert's Moment Musical No. 3, the Minuet from Handel's "Berenice," and Schubert's tone poem, Filandaria. Bernice McBeth, soprano, will be the soloist, singing the aria, Ah, My Son, from Meyerbeer's opera "The Prophet" and "Whispers from the Vienna Woods" by Strauss-Korngold.

Music lovers are awaiting with interest the appearance at the Empire theatre on April 6 of Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff, duo-pianists, in the final Celebrity Series concert of the current season. "Even if we played in separate rooms we would always be together. Before Genia starts to play something happens inside of me and I know what she will do—even when she tries to tease me with a trick," Mr. Luboshutz said in an interview recently. Therein, apparently lies the secret of their success as duo-pianists. Both artists had distinguished careers both in the United States and abroad before pursuing their present career, and that makes their partnership more significant. As Mr. Luboshutz observed, "Good duo-pianists are born, not made. It is a special gift. Any two virtuoso pianists won't necessarily make a good duo-piano team, because for a top notch piano duo, the technique of each partner must match, or complement the other so closely that the two are indistinguishable."

Although Mr. Luboshutz didn't go on during the week following

NOTED LEADER—Misha Piastro, outstanding violinist and conductor who will conduct the Longines Symphonette in a new series of programs starting on CFRN at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and thereafter until further notice every Sunday at the same hour. Mr. Piastro was a violin pupil of the great Leopold Auer, who wrote in his autobiography that Piastro was one of his six best pupils. For 10 years he was concertmaster of the mighty New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, and he has played in other leading orchestras, as well as playing many years as a concert artist. The Longines Symphonette is made up of first chair men of the Philharmonic and other great orchestras—every man a soloist in his own right—and it is one of the most popular and widely heard programs on any network.

infer that it was obligatory, he seemed to deem it advisable that the duo-pianists be married to each other. Perhaps that would make the "we" minds that work as one."

The following will appear on the young artists program at the Public Library at 3 p.m. Sunday: Betty Kingzett and Lawrence McKay, vocalists; and Marion Dyer, pianist.

Prospective competitors in the Edmonton District Music Festival are reminded that entries close on April 9.

A sample of the good work being done for music in city schools was given at Eastwood High school on Friday night when the school orchestra under the direction of Rudolph V. Cook gave a concert at the auditorium. Among the orchestral works played were Poet and Peasant overture, Suppe, Waltz in A, Brahms, War March of the Priests, Mendelssohn, Pomp and Circumstance, Elgar, Hungarian Dance No. 5, Brahms, and others. Eileen Massie played a piano solo; Gunhild Nyberg, a violin solo; Sylvia Newnam sang a solo and with Barbara Sproule sang a duet. Bert Ward contributed a trumpet solo and Edith Johnson gave a Highland dance accompanied by Tom Oliver, piper. A dance routine was given by Johnny Grekas, Evelyn Purkiss, Calvin Moffet and Margaret McLean.

Clarinet, Bill Linke; Lester Stevens; saxophone, Bob Dunsworth; trumpets, Bert Ward, Hugh Slater, Albert Irye; cello, Dorothy Hubbard; xylophone, Rosemary Stockman; bass, Philip Gaunt.

Aim to Prorogue House Wednesday

VICTORIA, March 24.—(CP)—Premier John Hart indicated in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday that he was aiming toward prorogation on Wednesday. In response to questions by Opposition Leader Harold Winch, the premier said if it was not possible to close Wednesday, the Legislature would continue on Thursday and if the work was not finished then it could go on during the week following.

Conference Delegate Advocates International Human Rights Code

WRITES MESSAGE.—The Rev. J. MacBeath Miller, MA, BD, minister of First Presbyterian Church, who has written a special Easter Message for readers of The Edmonton Bulletin. It will be published in this page next Saturday.

Enactment by the United Nations of an international code of human rights as "basic world law" was advocated here by Navy Commander Harold E. Stassen, delegate to the San Francisco world security conference.

In an address proposing seven cardinal points of future world policy, Stassen suggested a significant beginning in world law, could be made with a law "that no country, in time of peace, shall execute a human being without just trial."

NO PROTECTION

The fact there is no international law to protect a human being within a nation, Stassen added, "starkly silhouettes the tragic slowness of the development of society on the world level."

"From small beginnings, gradually the rights of freedom of worship, of fair trial, of freedom of speech and press, the right of the worker to organize, and the prevention of discrimination should be developed," he added.

SEVEN PRINCIPLES

1. That America "join with our present Allies at San Francisco to build a definite continuing organization of the United Nations of the World, based on justice and law, and insured by force. That we will seek to gradually develop a new and higher level of government, with legislative, judicial and executive functions, and with worldwide jurisdiction, for the future peace, progress and well-being of mankind. That we are and will continue to be interested in what happens in every other part of the globe. That this is one world."

2. That we "do not subscribe to the extreme view of nationalistic sovereignty, that we realize that neither this nation nor any other nation can be a law unto itself in the modern world, and that we are willing to delegate a limited portion of our national sovereignty to our United Nations organization, so that it may be effective in the tasks we expect it to accomplish."

3. That we "consider that the future welfare and peace and happiness of the people of America is inseparably intertwined with the future welfare and peace and happiness of the people of the world."

4. That we "will use the enormous productive capacity of America and the reservoirs of capital and credit and technical skill to contribute to the gradual advancement of the standards of living of the peoples of the world, not as recipients of charity, but as self-respecting men and women of dignity and of pride."

INFORMATION FREEDOM

5. That we "believe in the freedom of information through press and radio and school and forum as a vital factor of the peace and progress of the world and in the fulfillment of the dignity of man."

6. That "those who were aggressors in this war shall be stripped of all means to make war and shall remain so stripped. That we propose to remain strong on land, at sea and in the air, and will join with Russia and Great Britain, China and France, and the other United Nations in furnishing police power in the world."

STAY A DEMOCRACY

7. That "we are and propose to remain a democracy of free citizens with an economic system of private capital and individual enterprise. That we will constantly seek to improve the functioning of our system, both as to freedom and equality of our citizens and as to the success and adequacy of our economy. That we will explain our system to the world but will leave it to the peoples in each nation to decide for themselves their own form of government so long as they do not trample on basic human rights, or threaten the peace of the world, or transgress upon their neighbors. That we will permit our own citizens to learn of any other form of government they wish to study, but will not permit any other government to actively seek to undermine our own."

Stassen said the San Francisco conference should be looked upon "as a golden opportunity to win a beachhead in the battle for a just and lasting peace."

He warned, however, the "beachhead" is not the final goal, but "only the jumping off place for the long, hard drive toward victory."

Translation of the Bible into English was the most remarkable event in the reign of James I.

Palm Sunday

IT WAS the day of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. Word of His coming had spread through the city. From highways and alleys, from palaces and hovels, the people came to greet the Beloved One. The rich and poor, the well and sick, the upright and the weak, spread palms at his feet and the tumultuous cry went up: "Blessed is He who cometh in the name of the Lord."

The air was warm with sunlight, and the city alive with the spirit of festivity. Yet Calvary was but a week in the future. In a few short days, the honored Christ would carry the cross of execution upon his scourged back, and where the palms now lay, the dust would be reddened by the dripping of his blood. Instead of hosannas, a chorus of mockery and scorn would echo within the walls of Jerusalem.

To understand the meaning of Palm Sunday is to share in the profound pity of Christ as He raised His hands in benediction over many who would so soon clamor for His death. It is to grasp the essential truth that Christ's degradation was the price of betrayal, not alone of those who shared His days on earth, but of men throughout all ages who would crucify Him anew by their sins.

The period from Palm Sunday to Good Friday is the holiest in the church's calendar because it invokes the spirit of pure repentance and atonement. This is the time when the Christian searches his own heart, confesses his share in the infamy of Calvary, and humbly resolves that henceforth he will dedicate himself more fervently to Him who is the way, the truth, and the life.

Minister in India Baptist Speaker

During his recent visit to Edmonton, the Rev. Eric L. Quirk addressed a meeting in Strathcona Baptist Church, under the auspices of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society of the Edmonton-Peace River association. Mrs. F. G. McCoy, president, was chairman.

A devotional period was taken by the Rev. S. Hirtle, Mrs. W. E. Stewart and Miss Clara Johnson, missionary on furlough from India. Musical selections were given by a male quartet from First Baptist choir.

Mr. Quirk, who has spent 20 years in India, spoke of attempts by some of the Hindus to discredit the British government by spreading propaganda to the effect that "untouchability" does not exist in India today. Mr. Quirk stressed the importance of having Christian laymen preach the Gospel of Christ in hundreds of towns and villages unvisited because of the lack of missionaries.

On display at the meeting were many curios, including a bronze Kaiser-hind medal bestowed on Mr. Quirk by King George VI for services in connection with air raid precaution work in Coconada, a silver helmet and two fragments of an exploded Japanese shell which fell in Coconada.

Louis VII, of France, adopted the fleur-de-lis as the royal emblem.

TO SING SUNDAY.—Lt. George H. Clements, 1128 64 street, who has just returned from England, and who will be the guest soloist at Palm Sunday Protestant Service in the USAAF Base Chapel 30:30 Sunday morning. "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" by O'Hara is his selection. Lt. Clements will be accompanied at the organ by his sister, Miss Mary Clements, ATCM, organist at Highlands United Church, Miss Joan Sprague, New Haven, Conn., an American student in training at the University of Alberta, will be guest of honor at the Chapel Sunday Service.

Ministerial Assn. To Hold Meeting

A special pre-Easter meeting of the Edmonton Ministerial Association has been planned by the executive to take the place of the regular meeting which would come on Easter Monday.

The meeting will be held Monday, March 26 in St. Stephen's College. A worship service will be held in the chapel at 12 noon. Dinner will be served at one o'clock and a short meeting will follow.

It is hoped that as many as possible will attend the worship service but if this is impossible attendance is urged at one o'clock. Prof. Elson of St. Stephen's College will bring a message appropriate to the Easter season.

At Metropolitan

At Metropolitan United Church on Sunday morning Pre-Easter Communion service will be held and a number will be received into the membership of the church.

The minister will preach at the evening service, and the Communion will be held for the benefit of those unable to attend in the morning.

Twenty thousand lettuce seeds are required to weigh just one ounce.

Annual Easter Sunrise Service Will Be Held at San Francisco

Thousands of civilians and service men and women will gather throughout the United States for the fourth year of wartime Easter Dawn Services on Sunday, April 1, as Christians again proclaim Christ's Resurrection with the traditional salutation, "The Lord is Risen!"

San Francisco's 23rd annual Easter Sunrise Service will be held at the foot of the huge cross which towers 103 feet above the crest of Mt. Davidson, starting at 6:56 a.m. (PWT) with the sunrise trumpet call. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. John C. Leffer, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal Church and president of the San Francisco Council of Churches.

HUNDREDS OF SEATS
Hundreds of seats in the Hollywood Bowl will be reserved for service men and women, and service personnel convalescing in nearby hospitals, for the 25th annual Sunrise Service there. More than 25,000 persons are expected to attend.

Among the notable features of the service is a living cross composed of 250 children between 8 and 20, singing, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today." These youngsters occupy the centre of the huge Bowl shell, and shortly after dawn doff their dark garments and appear in white against a floral background composed of 20,000 calla lilies.

For the first time in the 11-year history of the Grand Canyon Easter Sunrise Service, a layman will preach the sermon, in the person of Dr. Ronald Bridges, moderator of the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches. The service originates from the site of the famous Hopi Fire Tower on the Canyon's South Rim.

An illuminated cross 140 feet high will provide the background for Chicago's 13th annual Easter Sunrise Service at 6:30 a.m. at Soldier Field, arranged by leading evangelical youth movements and organizations in the Chicago-land area. Dr. Harry McCormick, Linz, evangelist, of Riverside, Calif., will be the speaker.

Worshippers of many nationalities will fill the Mall in New York's Central Park for the 6th annual All-Nations Easter Sunrise Service from 7 to 8 a.m. sponsored by the Churches of God of Greater New York. Chief speaker will be Dr. Carlton B. French of Paris, France, founder of the Apostolic Faith Mission of France.

TO STAGE PAGEANT
A three-hour pageant depicting the life of Christ from His birth to His Crucifixion and Resurrection will highlight the 20th annual Easter Service at the Holy City in the Wichita Mountains of Oklahoma. A large open area on a ridge, semi-circular in shape, provides the stage setting, with Mt. Roosevelt

Confessional Church of Germany Resisted Nazis Through Chaplains

Resistance of the German Confessional Church to Nazism was carried into the German armed forces through the chaplaincy service, it was disclosed in London by the Religion Division of the Ministry of Information.

A German war chaplain who is now an Allied prisoner of war has been identified by German Confessional representatives in Great Britain as a member of the Church's opposition movement, and as author of a pamphlet in defence of the Jews, which he wrote while serving as a chaplain. He also described the sufferings he and others endured before the war, and how various Confessional pastors had been imprisoned or put to death.

DEFINITE STAND

Calling on Christians to take a definite stand against many features of Nazism, he wrote:

"We live in an age no less pervaded by superstitions and devils than were the Middle Ages. Instead of witchmania it is Jewmania which inspires orgies of our allegedly enlightened era. This Jewmania, which was already raging madly in the Middle Ages, has reached the acute stage nowadays.

"The Church must not keep silence. It must not say the settlement of the Jewish problem is a civil matter, and one in which the state is entitled to authority. Nor must the Church say the Jews are now receiving the punishment they deserve for their sins. There is no such thing as moderate Christian anti-Semitism, even when it is presented in an illuminating manner with logical national reasons, or even with scientific, or shall we say, pseudo-scientific reasons.

"Witchmania, too, was once given a scientific basis by experts from faculties of theology, law, and medicine. The fight against Judaism comes from the same murky spring as did witchmania. Mankind today has still not outgrown its search for a scapegoat, and therefore it is always searching for all kinds of guilty people, Jews, Free Masons, and powers unanswerable to the state.

"It is therefore necessary for Christianity to make the same decision which the congregations of the Middle Ages made. Instead of searching for a scapegoat, and singling out of hatred, it must repent and acknowledge its own guilt. It must exorcise all demons which have invaded our era, with triumphant assurance that Jesus is victor, that everything must be subject to Him, and that He is leading the world on towards His return and His wonderful kingdom."

On Tour
Dr. John W. Decker, secretary of the International Missionary Council, has arrived in Chungking from India. He is on a six-month tour of the South Pacific and East Asia, to confer with government, missionary and church leaders.

Haegg Captures First Race Since Arriving in States

CLEVELAND, March 24.—(AP)—Gunder Haegg, Sweden's great middle distance runner, won his first victory of his 1945 American tour last night, edging out Forest Eflaw of Bainbridge naval training station by three feet.

In the featured race of the fifth annual Knights of Columbus games, Gunder's time was four minutes, 16.7 seconds—2.2 seconds slower than his figure at Chicago last week when he finished 12 feet behind Jimmy Rafferty of New York, winner of the previous three miles in which Haegg had competed on his current tour.

The Swede took the lead far good at the eight lap after he had motioned to Rudy Simms of New York U., to set the pace. Simms did not comply and Haegg was forced to set his own pace.

Before the event Haegg said he intended to take the lead at the sixth lap. He had hoped to turn in a 4:12 mile but said the straightaways on the arena track were too short for his liking.

Rudy Simms of New York ran second to Haegg until the ninth lap when Eflaw took over the place position. Eflaw made a strong bid for the race on the last lap and only a last kick by Haegg enabled him to turn back Eflaw's challenge. Hardier Haskon Lidman, Haegg's countryman, was defeated in the 45-yard high hurdles by Ed Dugger of Dayton, the national indoor champion. Dugger's time was 5.7 seconds.

Thiede - Christy Meet March 31 In Main Bout

According to dispatches from the Pacific Coast, Cliff Thiede, who will be Ted Christy's opponent in next Saturday night's wrestling card at the Empire Theatre, is one of the toughest grapplers in the business. So, indications are that the Hollywood "bad man" will have to be at his best if he intends to chalk up another victory for his record book.

In the semi-windup promoter George Girvin has Chief Thunderbird signed to meet the people's choice, Lee Grable. Since his last appearance here in the popular Saanick Indian has wrestled some top notchers along the coast and would like nothing better to score a win over the likeable Grable next Saturday night.

An opponent for Maurice DeBleick will be named some time during the week for one of the preliminaries, while the promoter

Baseball Likely Survive Season

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y., March 24.—(AP)—Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, disclosed Thursday that he received the following statement from Ford Frick, president of the National League:

"The director of war mobilization (James F. Byrnes) contemplates no action or ruling that will embarrass or interfere in any way with baseball operations during the coming season. The only possible interference would be pending legislation and we have no reason to believe that any presently contemplated bill would interfere at all. On the other hand, it might even be helpful."

"The message from Frick," said Rickey, "will remove all doubt from the mind of the public whether baseball will survive this year."

Frick himself was unavailable for comment.

is working hard on another opening bout to round out the card.

Doug Kilburn Helps in All Four Tallies

FACING a three goal deficit, Ralph Hansch's Fairways showed a lot of fight at the Arena last night to shutout the Sunlands 4-0 in overtime to cop the two-game total-goal series for the EAC Pee Wee hockey championship.

The overtime was necessary when the new champions finished the regulation time on the long end of a 3-0 count to tie up the series from the 3-2 lead the Sunland crew held by winning in the first game played last Tuesday night.

Big hero for the winners was Doug (Sonny) Kilburn, little pivot man, who besides sinking the winning tally, figured in all four of the goals. He, together with his two line-mates Bill Howson and Fred Morie, was one of the major factors in their club's victory.

There was less than four minutes to go when Glen Raeburn notched the third goal that deadlocked the series with Morie and Kilburn assisting him. Then with the first overtime period going scoreless the elusive Kilburn took Morie's goal-mouth pass and slapped it home like a big leaguer to make it a story book finish with a little over two minutes left in the last overtime frame.

Bouquet should also be handed out to Jackie Morrison in the Fairways nets. Not having as much as his opponent Billy McLean at the other end to do, he rose to his teams heights several times and earned his shutout all the way. Once in the second stanza Oryst Stogryn, starry Sunland defenceman worked his way through the entire Fairway club only to be out-guessed and Morrison made a great stop on the drive right at his own doorstep.

At the conclusion of the game the Boys Shop trophy, emblematic of EAC PEE WEE hockey, was presented to Doug Kilburn of the Fairways by James Wright, who made the presentation with both teams being lined up on the two blue lines.

LINEUPS

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

MOOSE JAW, Sask., March 24.—Abbott Cup hockey so far as Alberta is concerned is all washed up for the year 1945, but the Edmonton Canadians will be pulling for the Moose Jaw Canucks to keep up the good work and continue right on to the end of the Memorial Cup trail.

How the Saskatchewan champions will fare against the Winnipeg Maroons, or Port Arthur Bruins is the next question, but Canucks are a good club. Furthermore if they can win games after being outshot two to one and outplayed for two of three periods to such an extent as happened here Thursday, then the Manitobans or Bruins, as the case may be might just as well call it a day right now and let Moose Jaw take on St. Michael's College for the title.

Moose Jaw looked better in the first game in Edmonton than in any of the other three. Bev Bentley gave Canucks high class goaling in all four and they can thank him for saving the last two. They have six good forwards, all but two rather on the light side. Clarence Marquess and Metro looked the best for the entire series, but all seem to know pretty well how to finish and two are real opportunists.

DESERVED BETTER FATE
DESPITE the fact that Canadians may have lacked the finesse of some of their opponents, they certainly should have won Thursday night's game. Thirty-one direct shots on goal as compared to 14, in addition to numerous near-misses speak for themselves.

There was one stretch of over five minutes in the second period when the Canucks never once had possession of the puck. Over eight minutes played between Moose Jaw's fourth and fifth shots on the Canadian goal. Canadians out-shot Canucks 16 to 7 in that period.

There was more heavy checking

Thursday than in any of the other three sessions, but the game was far from being rough. Canadians shot the works in the first two periods and were still down three goals. Canucks came back for the edge in the third canto.

BILL HAS SOMETHING THERE
In his column in Friday's Regina Leader-Post, Bill Bransted says: "It was a heartening effort for Canuck rosters, but headache for the railbird critics. The wue birds were wondering how a team can score five goals while hanging on the ropes, pretty well all through two periods, and then just score one in the only session in which they set the pace."

Murray Brown in the Moose Jaw Times-Herald, in commenting on the Canadians said, "Bill Gadsby and Leo Sorsa stood out on the Edmonton backline with Sorsa especially good. Campbell, Cy Thomas and fiery Eddie Thomas were the pick of the Edmonton forwards."

Canadians left for Edmonton Friday night and are due to arrive home this afternoon. They declare it'll be different next year.

Curling Meeting Set For Tuesday

The final meeting of the executive council of the Alberta Curling Association will be held at the Royal George Hotel on Tuesday night following a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. This meeting will include the reports of the various committees, financial statements of the Association and bonspiel, along with the auditors' report.

Prince Rupert Golf Course

IN THE CENTRE OF THE CITY
EDMONTON, ALTA.

HOW IS YOUR GOLF? THAT IS THE QUESTION.

PLAN to play on this well kept Course and you will always be able to answer, "All right."

AS AN ADDED ATTRACTION AND COMFORT FOR OUR PATRONS it has been decided that there will be only one charge this year, the regular one of 50 cents for an 18-hole game. No season tickets or 9-hole games will be sold. By introducing this feature we hope to eliminate the complaints of the past, namely, that the Course is too crowded during the evening hours and on Sundays and holidays.

The first tee is at the corner of 117th Street and 109th Avenue in the very heart of the City.

The office hours for reservations are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day.

Reservations for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays can be made only from 9 a.m. Fridays.

Reservations can be made for week days one day in advance.

TAXIMEN FROM COAST TO COAST

say "IT'S A GREAT SYNTHETIC TIRE!"

Taxis were among the first to receive the new Synthetic Rubber Tires because taxis are an essential form of transportation... and also they form a ready-made, "mileage-in-a-hurry" test fleet. Naturally, tire-wise taxi owners tried and compared all makes.

Now, with more than a year's driving experience behind them, their verdict is in. These men who judge tires on their performance, prefer Goodyears. Some of them have written testifying to service far beyond anything that Goodyear has ever claimed for its synthetic tires. Here are a few extracts from typical letters:

"Goodyear synthetics are giving the same long wear and satisfaction that Goodyear tires have given on our 72 cabs for many years."
—De Luxe Cab Limited

"... with reasonable care they deliver equal, and in some cases better mileage than tires we received before restrictions."
—Eglinton Taxi

"... have used Goodyear synthetics for some time... to the best of our knowledge, they are equal to the pre-war tires."
—Manor Taxi

For passenger-car tires there can hardly be a more severe test than that of operating on taxi fleets under all conditions of road and weather, and in all parts of Canada. When you ride on Goodyear synthetic tires, you have tires that pass that test with high honours.

Now, as always, all tire companies have access to the same raw materials. Now, as always, it is Goodyear's experience and Goodyear Research that puts extra quality into Goodyear tires. Now, as for 30 years, "More People Ride on Goodyear Tires Than on Any Other Kind."

Keep in touch with your Goodyear dealer whose experience and regular attention will help to keep your present tires in service.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, March 24.—(BUP)—A few weeks ago we typed a piece kidding some of the writing fellows about their learned remarks on what a changed man was Col. Larry MacPhail since his return to baseball. His hitch in the army had made him a quiet, restrained chap they said.

In our piece we emphasized that red-headed Larry was too old a leopard to change his liver spots—if he had any. And that he would soon be throwing his weight around, like a beserk heifer in a bric-a-brac shop.

Imagine our gleeful satisfaction, then, when dynamic Larry broke loose this week. No, no—folks: we take no credit for having inspired president MacPhail of the Yankees to cut loose. Nature merely took its course. And two months before even Larry expected it.

MEN WANT SPORT

WE were reminded of this Thursday night when we heard the "changed" MacPhail—the quiet restrained Larry—going to town over the air waves. He was a forceful and persuasive speaker in a Blue Network forum which was considering the question: "Should organized sports be abolished for the duration?" Your first guess is correct, Larry was in there punching for the continuation of sports. He had a lot of good arguments too, and he wound up in true MacPhailian style:

"Just one thing more. Anyone who knows anything about it will tell you that the overwhelming majority of the men who are fighting this war for us want professional sport continued. Anyone who tells you anything else simply doesn't know what he is talking about."

These remarks climaxed a week of MacPhailian reserve—reserve: a week that opened with last Sunday's hullabaloo over Larry's "kidnapping" of Lt. Bert Shepard in undershirt of war Robert Patterson's private airplane, Shepard, an army flier who had lost a leg in action, was supposed to have worked out with the Washington Senators at College Park, Md. But MacPhail spirited him away to the Yank's camp at Atlantic City, N.J., for the day. Prexy Clark Griffith of the Senators exploded and hit MacPhail with a flock of word-fragments. The war department finally straightened out the ruckus.

OFFICIAL NOTIFICATION
THIS "kidnapping" was not a mere stunt on MacPhail's part; it was his official notification to the baseball world that he had become active head of the Yankees—60 days ahead of schedule, that he—and not ancient Ed Barrow—was running things on the ball club which Capt. Dan Topping, Del Webb and he recently bought for $2,800,000.

Echoes of the "kidnapping" had scarcely faded when the "changed" MacPhail startled reporters by disclosing that he now favors Sen. Albert F. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky for the job of baseball commissioner. This disclosure indirectly informed everyone concerned that it would be MacPhail—and not Barrow—who will cast the Yankee vote for commissioner. Barrow had favored Ford Frick or Jim Farley.

MacPhail is still the old, dynamic color guy. The only "change" was his shift from the Dodgers to the Yankees—from the National to the American League. It is our belief that the junior circuit never will be the same again.

MONTREAL, March 24.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens, two down in their Stanley Cup semi-final series with Toronto Maple Leafs, had more grief last night in the form of an imposing injury list as they set out for Toronto and the third game Saturday night.

Coach Dick Irvin, announced that Frankie Edell's bad ankle was worse, that Buddy O'Connor was out for the season with an injured knee, that Elmer Lach had a badly swollen ankle and that Toe Blake was suffering from a heavy cold.

Frank (Butch) Stahan of Montreal Royals probably will replace Edell's, who suffered a broken ankle bone in the last two weeks of the regular season.

Buddy O'Connor, little centre of the Canadian second line, suffered his knee injury late in Thursday night's game after he was boarded. Canadiens probably will bring up Johnny Mahaffey from Pittsburgh Pirates of the American Hockey League.

Lach's ankle has been troubling him for the last two or three games.

X-RAY SHOWS CAIN ONLY RECEIVES BRUISES
DETROIT, March 24.—(AP)—Boston Bruins, their role shifted from that of underdog to favorite by virtue of their two victories here over Detroit Red Wings, headed home last night to renew their first round Stanley Cup hockey series with the Wings on home ice to-night.

Cheering news for the Bruins came from x-ray examination of Herbie Cain, injured in a crash against the boards in the first period of last night's game. Cain first was reported to have suffered a broken collar bone, but the x-rays Friday showed nothing worse than severe bruises. It was indicated he might be ready for action Sunday.

The Detroit team, facing the necessity of winning in Boston to retain their hopes of reaching the Stanley Cup finals, learned it would have to play without the services of veteran high scoring Syd Howe.

Edmonton Teams Seek Provincial Basketball Titles

Capt. Gerry Bulger and his Alaskan Division Headquarters team invade Calgary today for the first of a two-game total point series with Calgary RCAF for the provincial intermediate basketball title. The game is set for Central High school gymnasium, starting at 8:15 p.m. Return half of the series is expected to be played at the Edmonton Air Base gym on Saturday March 24 starting at 8 p.m.

Edmonton's other provincial contestants for basketball honors are getting set for their elimination series. Air Base "Clippers", managed by Capt. Ray Arjo, are awaiting the result of the Calgary-Yankees senior series, while this city's YMCA "Tollers" are stalled also, pending winners of another Calgary-Raymond round for junior representatives.

Walter Stewart and his Victoria High School boys are planning to tangle with Cardston during the school Easter holiday period at Cardston, for the Alberta interscholastic "A" crown. Westgate High of this city have arranged their interscholastic "B" series with

Provincial Midget Playoff Tonight

Calgary Buffaloes, winners of the southern Alberta midget hockey championship will be here this week-end to meet Edmonton's Maple Leafs, northern champions, for the provincial title. First game will be tonight following the Red Cross clash at the Arena and the second will be Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, also at the Arena.

Basketball Final To Start Tonight

First game in the best of three final for the City Girls' Basketball League championship between Army and Navy Pats and YWCA Aces will be played at the NWSC drill hall tonight commencing at 8 o'clock. Aces, recently won the semi-final series with RCAF Gren- ties, but the Air Force girls protested the final game of a hard fought series. The protest was not upheld, however, and the Aces entered the final.

Wrentham, to be played at the West- glen gym Thursday March 29 and Saturday March 31.

Army and Navy "Pats" have completed their Alberta conquest of senior ladies' honors and are ready for interprovincial play.

District News In Brief

Co-Op. Meet Shows $82,000 Increase

VERMILION: The Vermilion Co-op annual meeting was held Wednesday with 53 shareholders in attendance. The financial report, read by C. A. Dixon, managing-director, showed $82,000 worth of business during the year, with net earnings of $11,150. During the year, the organization purchased the Bailey butcher concern for $10,000.

Elected directors were George Hennika, Roy Walker and Fred Scott.

In an address reviewing the growth of the Co-op movement in Vermilion, secretary Castle Scott gave the first year's business as $18,000, and the 1944 business as $100,000, a growth of $82,000 in ten years. Most of the credit for this increase was given to Mr. Dixon.

Capt. S. J. Cunliffe Wounded Overseas

POUCE COUPE—Additional word has been received by S. A. Cunliffe, district engineer, Department of public works, of the wounding of his son, Capt. S. J. Cunliffe, on the Western Front in Germany. The wounds are not considered of a serious nature.

Capt. Cunliffe was employed by the Department of public works, Victoria, as a surveyor. He enlisted in the RCA Survey Battery in 1940. Soon after arriving in England, he was transferred to a radio location company. He served as an NCO until 1943, when he was sent to Aldershot to train for a commission, which he received in 1944. A short time afterwards, he was sent to France, and promoted to captain early this month.

Official word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Becker that the body of their son, WO Robert Becker, had been found off the coast of Ireland. A funeral service took place Wednesday, in the church his mother's parents used to attend in Ireland.

Sedgewick Legion Greets Visitors

SEDGWICK—North Eastern Command of the Canadian Legion held a district meeting here, opened by a public meeting in the afternoon. The executive and speakers were guests of the Legion at a banquet. S. C. Heckbert and Lt.-Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D., addressed the evening meeting.

Pte. Morris Reymann, who joined The Loyal Edmonton Regiment in 1939, has arrived home from overseas after being wounded in action.

Urge Improvement Service at Arena

RED DEER—The matter of getting better service from the Red Deer arena was discussed at the Board of Trade meeting this week. A number of members felt that younger players did not have as much use of the ice as was desirable and expressed the opinion that it should be used more for the community rather than as a private enterprise.

It was felt that services of a first class coach were needed for the local teams. Local men who were coaching the different teams did their best but did not have the time to spend on the job. As a result of the discussion it was decided to approach the directors of the arena company to see if better ice arrangements could be reached for next winter. The arena was built in 1925 with money received from sale of shares to individuals and organizations, and it is managed by a board of directors elected by the shareholders.

To Make Baskets

FAUST: Members of the Women's Auxiliary made plans for constructing Easter baskets when they met at the home of Mrs. W. Robinson. Local teachers were guests at the meeting.

Mortgage Burned At Church Meet

CONSORT—The Ladies' Aid of Knox United Church staged their annual supper followed by a public meeting and program. Feature of the evening was the burning of the church mortgage. James Mundie, old-time resident, traced the history of the church since July, 1918, and the Rev. F. Forester of Coronation, and the Rev. C. S. Pinder of Stettler brought greetings to the congregation. A presentation was made to Mrs. A. Jones who has had charge of the choir for many years.

Edmonton Speakers At Ponoka Meeting

PONOKA—Meeting of the Ponoka Rehabilitation Council was held under the chairmanship of L. Silvers. Guest speakers were Del Mould, chairman of the Edmonton council, W. R. McLaren, M.M., veterans welfare officer, addressed the meeting. The latter declared that rehabilitation must be the concern of every citizen and that responsibility should not be left entirely to Ottawa.

W.I. in Northern Alberta

By MRS. HUGH J. MONTGOMERY—Box 514, Wetaskiwin.

DUFFIELD—WI members play godmother to the High school which they were the means of securing for the district, and hold a social evening every month as a form of entertainment for the students. A St. Patrick's card party added to funds and members are making a layette for charitable purposes.

EDMONTON—Miss Gladys Reeves told the story of photography to a recent meeting of the WI. Members brought early photographs of themselves to be identified. Mrs. E. E. Morton, provincial vice-president, was a visitor and brought greetings. Neat calendars were presented to each member bearing the meeting dates as well as dates of WI broadcasts.

GENESSEE—Cigarettes have been sent overseas and a donation was made to the Red Cross. Programs for the year have been made for the members.

PIGEON VALLEY—Mrs. E. Rattray spoke on the Yukon, where she had lived as a girl, and illustrated her remarks with pictures. Members held a special evening in the hall to say farewell to Mr. and Mrs. King and family who are leaving the district. A large crowd was in attendance.

HUGHENDEN—Mrs. Wright, for many years a member and officer of the WI, has left to make her home in Ontario. Mrs. J. A. Strang will take Mrs. Wright's place as secretary. Lunch will be served at an auction sale and members are making jerkins for the Navy League.

HOBBSMA—A bazaar is planned for the early fall and members are going to make a quilt. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Palechek.

MEANOOK—The Rev. M. Larwell was guest of the meeting and entertained with violin selections accompanied by Mrs. McLay. Miss Calder, the local teacher, was guest at a luncheon. Funds have been raised by serving dinner and lunches. Lunch will be served at a sale to be held March 28. An outfit is being made for a girl of 14.

VEGREVILLE—Mr. Kasner showed members how to properly care for a sewing machine in a demonstration, and stressed the use of the proper needles for various materials. A donation was made to the rest room.

STROME—In keeping with the Lenten season, Mrs. Moerke told the history of Ash Wednesday and Lenten customs. Lunches were served at a recent bonspiel to replenish WI funds. Mrs. L. Roy, who is leaving shortly, was presented with a gift and the good wishes of her fellow members.

Forestry Experts Discuss Problems

HIGH PRAIRIE: Forest rangers of the Northern Alberta forest district met recently at Westlock for a three day session with Inspectors Hammer, Mitchell and Jansson of Peace River, Carter of Athabasca, Logan of Lac la Biche, Noble of Edson, Summers of Breton and Fred Smith of Westlock. Present also was Donald Alex McKay of Bonnyville, Inspector Burley of Edmonton, and Supervisor Donald Buck, of the Athabasca-Breton forest reserve.

Chief Timber Inspector Neilson was chairman, and fire fighting and detection and protection of beaver were among the subjects discussed.

On the last day the director of forestry, T. F. Blagden, spoke on Silviculture, the seeding, planting and transplanting of forest trees, in Alberta.

Concern of every citizen and that responsibility should not be left entirely to Ottawa.

Members at Jasper Raise $100 at Tea

JASPER—Catholic Women's League held their annual tea and bake sale this week in the church basement. More than $100 was raised. The room was decorated with St. Patrick motifs and the assistants wore Irish caps and aprons.

Mrs. M. L. Taylor was the convener, assisted by Mrs. S. Dair, Mrs. L. Lavery, Mrs. B. Cartier, Mrs. C. Lowsky, Mrs. M. Richter, Mrs. S. Fontus, and the Misses Phyllis Windh, Mary Ann Camp, Pauline LaMarche and Mary Ellen O'Brien. In charge of the home cooking table were Mrs. P. Donnelly and Mrs. G. Camp.

A table of home made candy was soon sold out under the direction of Mrs. T. Mullen and Mrs. J. P. O'Brien. Miss Dora Doyle was in charge of the tea tickets. Mrs. J. MacDonald was in charge of the apron stall.

DONALDA—Arrangements are being made to have the Blood Donors' Clinic visit the locality and donors are already promised. Mrs. Hornum read an article on the Red Cross as it will be 100 years hence, and also read a poem, "Salute to the Mounties." Mrs. Damberger conducted a radio quiz. Seeds were sent to Britain.

ENILDA—Mrs. Sparks outlined the use of the newer vaccines when she spoke on health at a recent meeting. Mrs. Kirkpatrick reported on the Boy Scout troop about to be formed. A donation was made to the Red Cross. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. B. Smith.

ARGYLE—Members remodelled and repaired garments when they met at the home of Mrs. Emerson, preparing a shipment of clothing for the Red Cross refugee relief. Knitted articles were also received for the Navy League. Mrs. Rear, Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Hamilton will convene a similar meeting in April. During the afternoon letters of appreciation were read from 12 who had received overseas parcels.

WESTOE-WANDERERS—Calendars sent by an English WI were distributed among the members. WI funds will be augmented by the proceeds of serving lunches at an auction sale. Plans were made to make two complete outfits for young girls as part of the war work as well as knitting garments for soldiers.

JASPER—The 21st anniversary of the WI was observed recently when several charter members were present, including the first president, Mrs. Pugh. Interest and entertainment were afforded by reading from the first minute book. Books for the library were donated.

GORDON—Donations were made to the Red Cross and to the Woods Home from the proceeds of lunches served at an auction sale. Plans were made to make two complete outfits for young girls as part of the war work as well as knitting garments for soldiers.

BON ACCORD—Plans were made to produce a play some time next month. A donation was voted to the Red Cross. A social hour followed.

FAWCETT—Mrs. G. Burchell, principal of the local school, discussed rural high schools with the members when they met recently at the home of Mrs. J. D. MacGillivray, Jr. Mrs. R. J. Brosh was winner of a contest that followed. Articles for a layette were received. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. MacGillivray.

YOUNGSTOWN—Vitamins and their benefits was the topic of an address given by Mrs. Anderson, R.N., when she spoke to the WI this month. A donation was made to Junior Red Cross members, and sewing is being done for their hospital. A play will be given next month to be followed by a dance.

BURNT LAKE—Mrs. K. Trachsel showed how to make slip covers for furniture when the WI met at the home of Mrs. Grimson. A donation was made to the local hockey club. Yearly programs were distributed.

KINUSO—A recent meeting took the form of a costume party, when members came dressed as valentines. Miss Johnston, Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Rice received the awards for best costumes. A St. Patrick's tea furnished funds for cigarettes to be sent overseas. Caps, sweaters and socks have been made for war comforts.

ELNORA—Mrs. Duncan discussed post-war reconstruction, and Mrs. Thompson gave current events at the regular meeting of the WI. Knitted articles were turned in for the Navy League and garden seeds were sent to Britain. A feature of the meeting which was held in the school, was the visit to the classroom where enterprise work was in progress.

Bashaw Students Hold Paper Drive

BASHAW—A waste paper drive was held by the High school students to aid the salvage drive. The grades collected as follows: Grades 1 and 2, 1,000 lbs. of paper; Grades 3 and 4, 1,085 lbs.; Grades 5 and 6, 300 lbs.; Grades 7, 8 and 9, 150 lbs. The children delivered the paper to the salvage depot.

J. Ansell, who has been agent of the Alberta Wheat Pool here for the last 15 years, has resigned and H. Blaney of Cereals replaced him. The High School students completed a successful campaign in the February sale of war-saving stamps. The sum of $800 was raised.

The curling club completed its first annual bonspiel which consisted of three events, the grand challenge, merchants and consolation.

There were 32 rinks entered with the following winners: grand challenge, E. M. Wegren, skip; merchants, E. Jarvis, skip; consolation, H. West skip.

Members at Jasper Raise $100 at Tea

JASPER—Catholic Women's League held their annual tea and bake sale this week in the church basement. More than $100 was raised. The room was decorated with St. Patrick motifs and the assistants wore Irish caps and aprons.

Mrs. M. L. Taylor was the convener, assisted by Mrs. S. Dair, Mrs. L. Lavery, Mrs. B. Cartier, Mrs. C. Lowsky, Mrs. M. Richter, Mrs. S. Fontus, and the Misses Phyllis Windh, Mary Ann Camp, Pauline LaMarche and Mary Ellen O'Brien. In charge of the home cooking table were Mrs. P. Donnelly and Mrs. G. Camp.

A table of home made candy was soon sold out under the direction of Mrs. T. Mullen and Mrs. J. P. O'Brien. Miss Dora Doyle was in charge of the tea tickets. Mrs. J. MacDonald was in charge of the apron stall.

Among the buyers at the sale were A. LaBrie, Quebec City; J. Russell, Oshawa, Ont.; Sam Davidson, Calgary; C. Barrett and A. Piew, Pickering, Ont.; H. R. Parr, Castor, Alta.; and Middleton, N.S.; Paul Allary, La Peltier, Sask.; Jack A. McLeod, Gilmour, B.C.; Rex Ireland, Edmonton; W. Wilson, Calgary; Charlie Wing, Millbrook, N.Y.; F. J. ### Secretary-Manager Completes 18 Years

LLOYDMINSTER: C. G. Davidson, popular secretary-manager of the Lloydminster and District Agricultural Co-operative Association, completed 18 years service in that capacity on Wednesday. At a recent meeting of the board of directors, his contract with the association was renewed.

The Lloydminster branch of the Canadian Legion has added 26 new members since the beginning of the year, and plans are now underway for the anniversary of Vimy, which is anticipated, will be the largest gathering of service men held in the border town for some years. Active service men, retired from the battles overseas, will be the guests of the banquet.

Trophy Decision Pleases Lacombe

LACOMBE: Local hockey fans were pleased to see that the Calder Trophy for the most outstanding rookie in the National Hockey League for the current season has been awarded to Frank McCool. The Toronto Maple Leaf goalkeeper played between the posts for the Lacombe Athletics in the Central Alberta Hockey League for one season and was very popular with the fans here.

Flt.-Lt. Milton Ulas of Lacombe, serving with the RCAF overseas, has been promoted to the rank of squadron leader. His father, Gus Ulas, is president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion.

District Organizes For Victory Loan

ELK POINT: Unit Organizers H. R. Mann and George Graham of Elk Point attended an organization meeting Thursday of the Heinsburg Victory Loan sub-unit. Ralph Brooks was selected chairman of the sub-unit, to be assisted by an advisory committee consisting of Leonard Coombs and Steve Kalita, and a staff of six salesmen.

Highway Ban

Effective at 7 a.m. Saturday a ban went into effect on traffic on Highway No. 2 between Clyde and Smith. Similarly a ban was placed on the district highway from two miles north of Barrhead to Fort Assiniboine, and all municipal district roads in the municipalities of Camrose No. 427, Westlock No. 502, Nelson No. 638 and Grosmont No. 668.

Sell Business

VERMILION: The business of M. Wener and Son has been sold to P. Binsky of Winnipeg and E. Katz of Prince Albert. The store was opened in 1910 by Moses Wener, manager until 1932, when it was transferred to his son Jacob, who has been manager up to the present.

Mixed 'Spiel' Ends Red Deer Curling

RED DEER—The final event of the curling season in Red Deer was a mixed bonspiel, the second one of the winter. Two events were played, with an entry of 20 rinks. Norman Burnett's rink won the primary event by defeating club president Doug Gray, 12-11, in the final. J. V. Bettenson was third and George McLevin fourth. A. R. Little won the secondary competition, beating Morris Beatty 11-9 in the final. Jim McRobbie's rink was third and Hugh McLevin, Jr., took fourth place.

Entries were: Hugh McLevin, Sr., R. M. Beatty, R. H. Blades, Hugh McLevin, Jr., G. Slag, Doug Gray, Jim McRobbie, A. A. Prout, Frank Nundahl, E. A. Bowring, Hugh Clarke, Olaf Stranne, George McLevin, Hugh Lee, Norman Kalbfleisch, Harold Hugel, Harvey Bunting, J. V. Bettenson, A. R. Little and N. M. Burnett.

One of the most interesting sporting events of the season, a farmers' bonspiel, had to be cancelled because of mild weather. The Red Deer Curling Club had arranged the 'spiel, the first farmers' bonspiel in Red Deer.

HERE'S HOW ## to fill in your FAMILY ALLOWANCE registration form

Every family will receive through the mail in the next day or two, a Family Allowance Registration Form. You are urged to fill in this form immediately. First cheques will be mailed in July, 1945, but only to those eligible families which have returned the completed form. You are therefore acting in the best interests of your children when you fill in the form and return it immediately.

Family Allowances are being paid for every eligible child under 16 to help parents in the raising of their children—to help pay for medical, dental and nursing services, to help pay for better food, clothing, shelter, and to assist in equalizing opportunities for all children.

Follow the instructions below. There are only seven questions—completing the form will take only a few moments. Do it as soon as received and ANSWER EVERY QUESTION.

If you do not receive a form through the mail, you can get one from the nearest post office.

QUESTION 1. PRINT IN BLOCK LETTERS (LIKE THIS) the names of your children under 16. Write out the month of birth, then give day and year. Write name of place where each child was born. Complete each line by stating your relationship to child, and if father and mother are applying, fill in both "relationship" columns.

QUESTION 2. Here the father and mother must both sign if both are at home. Then give the address to which cheques should be mailed. PRINT THIS IN BLOCK TYPE (LIKE THIS) under both signatures. The mother should not sign her husband's first name. She should sign her own first name, such as Mrs. Alice, Mary, Joan, etc.

QUESTION 3. If only one person has signed under question 2, state the reason why the other signature cannot be given. Give full details. It is not enough to say Father or Mother is "away"—state where and for how long.

QUESTIONS 4, 5, 6 and 7 on the other side of the form must also be answered either "Yes" or "No". If the answer is "No" to questions 4, 5 or 6, please fill in the details required, giving name of child, or children concerned. In the case of No. 5, if you have any children under 16 not living with you, list their names, give the reason and be sure to give the complete address as to where they can be visited. If the answer to No. 7 is "Yes", give the details required.

BE SURE TO ANSWER ALL QUESTIONS—You will then cause no delay in mailing the first cheque in July, 1945.

PARENTS YOU ARE HELPING YOUR CHILDREN WHEN YOU REGISTER FOR FAMILY ALLOWANCES

The Lions' and Cosmopolitan clubs will hold a joint meeting in the Macdonald hotel next Thursday noon under the chairmanship of Wilson Faulder, secretary of the Spokes club a public speaking group composed of members from both clubs. The program will feature two speakers from each club who will be judged by Robert Muir who has acted as critic for the Spokes club.

Seeks Conference

QUEBEC, March 24.—(CP)—Justice Minister St. Laurent said in a letter read last night at a city council meeting he would do "everything possible" to have the peace conference held here.

Continue Task of Helping Veterans, VVR Told at 'Stand Down' Banquet

For official purposes removing their arm-bands and grey-blue caps members of the South Edmonton battalion, Veterans Volunteer Reserve, were urged to continue their task as Canadian citizens, of helping the veterans of the present war in a manner superior to that in which veterans were received at the close of the First Great War.

The South Edmonton battalion holding their "stand down smoker" in the Strathcona Assembly hall headquarters, were advised by various guest speakers to "keep the public soldier-minded," to prevent treatment of ex-servicemen from deteriorating to a state of neglect and resultant dissatisfaction.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

More than 200 VVR members, anticipating their March 31 disbandment, renewed experiences of both the present war and the 1914-18 conflict, in a distinguished company.

Present as guests were: Harry Wilson, KC, chairman of the VVR board; executive members Walter McLaren, veterans' welfare officer; Col. F. C. Jamieson, Lt. Col. W. F. W. Hancock, RCMP, and Maj. Ronnie Arthur, Gordon Butler, officer commanding the North Edmonton battalion, VVR; Phil Richards, second-in-command; A. F. Nightingale, intelligence officer, the North Edmonton battalion; Ray Hagan, of the Edmonton Fusiliers.

W. "Bill" Williams, M.L.A. of the Canadian Legion, Walter S. Rose of the South Edmonton Legion Post, A. M. Adamson, president of the Canadian Corps Association; N. O. Campbell, vice-president, Lt. Hume Mullin VC MM of the Veterans' Guard of Canada; RSM Fred Purkiss of the Edmonton garrison; Lt. Col. E. Brown, MM, ED, former area commandant.

Barney Morrison, of the Amputation Association; E. R. Clarke, original officer commanding the South Edmonton VVR; Capt. Ian Stuart-Irvine, original second-in-command; Dr. A. E. Braithwaite, unit medical officer; Capt. D. H. Glass, officer commanding the Wainwright unit; Chief Const. Reg Jennings of the city police department; R. P. Wallace, chief clerk of the police court; Maj. S. Wood, original unit music officer; Pte W. R. Glazier, RCAS, and Pte A. Kerr, veterans of the present war; 16 members of the Leduc unit, and others.

Master of ceremonies for the program of entertainment was VVR RSM, Jack Jones. Featured on the program were Frank Williams, baritone; Archie Bichan, violinist; Jimmy Grant, comedian; Sgt. Frank Hermans of the U.S. Special Service Division; magician; Dave Jones, vocalist and pianist Sam Hobson. A portion of the program was broadcast and recorded and will be rebroadcast Good Friday at 9:30 p.m.

As second-in-command of the South Edmonton unit, Norman Lee expressed the hope that a rifle club might be formed in the near future to keep the members together. Capt. J. L. Irvine, adjutant, presented rifle marksmanship shields to N. Hayden, T. N. Mackie, W. R. Mount, J. A. Ross and Steve Hondev.

MAINTAIN EMPIRE

Col. Jamieson told the disbanding members to do their part in "maintaining the Empire." He showed the histories of the self-governing colonies in the First Great War, who raised one and a half million fighting men and later claimed the right to be the "Three of Versailles" as separate nations. Despite the individuality of each nation, he stressed the need of supporting all members of the Commonwealth to maintain the Empire.

Maj. Clarke, as original O.C., expressed the hope, that an annual VVR reunion might be arranged. Maj. Arthur, on behalf of the VVR members, presented Dr. Braithwaite with a certificate acknowledging membership. The medical officer had served the organization since its inception.

Col. Hancock pointed to the part played by the VVR in its role of maintaining a constant vigilance towards subversive activities. He declared that members had proved invaluable to the work of the RCMP in its wartime activities. "The work of the VVR is not now done by any manner or means," he said, "by veterans now have the job of assisting the men who come back from this war," he said.

TRIBUTE TO LEADERS

Maj. Arthur paid tribute to the leadership under which the South Edmonton battalion had operated. "You have been fortunate in that suitable officers have always been available to take over your command," he declared. The speaker read a letter from Premier L. C. Manning, expressing the thanks of the provincial government for the "duties which they so generously undertook."

Bill Williams referred to a number of "menaces" to the country which will have to be faced in the future. To guard against these menaces, he urged the members to see to it that the men who return from this war get a fair reward for the sacrifices they have made.

Other speakers included Sgt. Maj. Purkiss and Dick Rice who represented radio station CFRN.

Survivors of Ship Strafed by Japs

WMO, WMA, March 24.—(AP) Japanese planes strafed survivors of the U.S.S. Franklin D. Roosevelt, which was sunk by a Japanese submarine on March 18, 1942, in the Pacific Ocean. The survivors, who were rescued by the U.S.S. Johnston, were taken to the Johnston Island hospital.

Aid For Veterans

Mr. J. M. Smith, M.L.A., of the Canadian Legion, said that the Canadian Legion was doing its best to help veterans. He said that the Legion was doing its best to help veterans in many ways, including providing them with food, clothing, and shelter.

Last Of Budget Items Passed By Legislature

Final items of Premier Ernest Manning's budget for the 1945-46 fiscal year, which begins April 1, were passed by the Legislature in committee of supply Friday afternoon. Expenditures voted in the complete budget total almost $28,000,000.

Expenditures approved are made up of $25,544,446 on income account, and a further $2,660,109 in capital account payments.

The largest vote approved Friday was for $6,566,824 for public debt, an increase over $3,088,764 provided in 1944. Main item responsible for the increase is a vote of $2,000,000 for debt retirement in the next fiscal year. In addition, $3,962,000 is provided as interest for the new refunding plan. The interest rate is increased by $1,664,340 over last year.

OTHER APPROPRIATIONS

Other appropriations passed Friday included a $54,566 vote for the new department of economic affairs, and $281,585 for the department of trade and industry. Vote for this department is $32,117 higher than last year.

For youth training, under the department of education, $238,866 was voted. Youth training votes under the departments of agriculture and lands and mines were $31,786 and $77,042 respectively.

The budget for the coming fiscal year provides for an overall deficit of $702,294 on income account. A deficit of $313,931 was estimated for the fiscal year just ending.

When a vote of $275,000 for interest on Alberta and Great Waterways Railway bonds was under examination, Mayor Andrew Davidson (Ind.-Calgary) asked Premier Manning for a statement on this bond situation.

Mr. Manning recalled that when the government sold the A. & G. W. railway, the province was obligated to continue paying interest on the bonds at the rate of 5 per cent.

TOTAL REDUCED

The original amount of these bonds outstanding was $7,500,000, but through purchases by the government, the total had been reduced to $5,500,000.

The premier said that if the re-

Mr. Leclerc is a corporal in the Canadian Army, stationed at Calgary.

funding plan is successful, efforts may be made to reach a mutual agreement in order to get a lower interest rate on the A. & G. W. bonds.

Steady Market For Fur Reported

A fairly steady market during the last four years was reported by W. L. Levine of the Edmonton Fur Auction Sales Ltd., when he addressed the March meeting of the Edmonton Fur Breeders' Association in the Masonic Temple. Mr. Levine credited the steady market to new regulations governing the industry, brought about through war economy.

L. R. Gorham reported on his recent visit to a Minnesota mink ranch. A number of new members were welcomed to the meeting.

It was suggested that an effort be made to learn something about a type of brown mink which is receiving good sales reception in the United States.

A MYSTERY

ALL the laying hens in the neighborhood of the Teenie Weenie village had gone on a standup strike. No one knew why, but the hens were not laying eggs. It began to look as though the Teenie Weenies would not have their usual hen egg for Easter. The little people had visited every hen all the way to Puddlemugg, which is two miles from the Teenie Weenie village, and much too far for such tiny folk to transport a hen's egg. Not a single chicken would promise to lay an egg for them. Then the mysterious egg appeared.

The Old Soldier with a wooden leg discovered the egg when he went outside to get some kindling for starting the morning fire in the Teenie Weenie cook-stove. He shouted for the rest of the little folks and they came swarming out of the shoe house like bees. The big brown egg lay on the ground near the kitchen door. Someone had brought it there, but who? A hen could not get through the tangle of briars and thick brush that surrounds the Teenie Weenie village, and no big person could possibly leave it there. It was all most puzzling until the General told the Teenie Weenie Indian to do his best to solve the mystery.

The Indian set out to see if the one who brought the egg had left a trail. All morning he searched the ground in the neighborhood, then just before lunch he found dog tracks.

"Jack's tracks!" grunted the Indian, after he had examined them carefully.

Jack was a small dog friend of the Teenie Weenies and he had managed to wiggle through the brush with the egg in his mouth. He had heard that the Teenie Weenies could not find an egg for their Easter party, and somehow the dog had found one and brought it to the village before the Teenie Weenies were up in the morning.

It was a fine looking egg and the Teenie Weenies were delighted, for now they could have a boiled egg for Easter and they could invite in their small animal and bird friends to help eat it.

The Doctor examined the egg and then he brought out his stethoscope. He put the tiny instrument to the egg and listened while the Teenie Weenies stared in silence.

"I believe," said the Doctor, after he had listened on several spots of the egg, "we ought to put this egg in a warm place and let it stand for several days."

"Isn't the egg good?" asked the Lady of Fashion.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Bickering In Home Affects Children

Neurotic Woman Should Seek Treatment to Avert Home Strife; Men and Women Who Are Ill Should Go to Doctor

DEAR MISS DIX: I am thinking of getting a divorce because my husband and I bicker and fight over everything, mainly money. We have two children and I know that it is not good for them to be reared in such a home as we make. They look so ill all the time and are so nervous, and they fight and argue just like we do. I love them dearly and I can't stand to see them get to bickering as we do.

Do you think that it is because I am not well that I am so irritable? I have such frightful headaches and so much nausea and would go to a hospital for a complete examination, but I am stopped because we haven't any money. My husband belongs to a well-to-do family, but he does not know how to get along himself, and for six years I have done nothing but answer the telephone and say to bill collectors that we will pay in a little while. What can I do?

MRS. G. C. I. ANSWER: Undoubtedly your nerves being on edge is largely responsible for your lack of self-control, and your earnest advice to you is to go to a good neurologist, hospital and have a thorough checkup made of your condition. If you haven't the money for it, put your pride in your pocket and go to the free clinic that all of the best hospitals conduct, and where some of the finest physicians give their services gratuitously.

No one who is ill can have an optimistic outlook on life or be a good parent. You are doing your children wrong, physically, mentally and morally, by bringing them up in a house of discord and if you and your husband don't get along without fighting, you had better call the fight off, and part.

Hand's people to help you through the emergency? Perhaps they would care of the children while you regain your health and prepare yourself to support them by learning some trade.

FORGET

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: A boy whom I have known since my school days came home not long ago on his furlough. He came to see me practically every night while he was at home and told me he loved me and wanted to marry me, but as soon as he went back to the army he wrote to me and told me that he didn't mean what he said and that he was in love with someone else.

It has simply broken my heart and is very humiliating as everyone seemed to think that we were as good as married, and they are always asking me about him. Should

I pretend that I never did love him, even if it hurts so bad, or shall I tell him how much I do love him?

ANSWER: Bluff it out. Laugh it off. Don't wear your heart on your sleeve where everybody can see it. When people ask you about him, just say "Oh, we called that off. We found out in time that we just had an attack of war hysteria and that we didn't really care for each other in that way."

And for pity's sake don't write to the boy and tell him how you love him. It won't do any good. It won't bring him back to you. It will just give him a chance to show your letter around and prove to his buddies what a fascinator he is.

DIRTY HOUSEWORK DEAR MISS DIX: I am a woman 50 years old. My mother had ten children and all of my life I had to do the dirty housework. Then I got married and still had to do housework, which I hated. My husband died and I went to work in a factory and for the first time in my life I got to do the kind of work I like and enjoy doing.

But my mother worried me until they made me give up the job at the factory and stay at home. Now I have to do again the housework I hate.

TIRED MOTHER ANSWER: "Don't be chicken-pecked. Go back to the factory and do the work you like to do. Not every woman is domestic in her heart. You have served your term as a mother and washing dishes. Do the work you enjoy and that has a pay envelope attached to it."

YOUR BABY AND MINE BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

A baby's skin should be smooth, soft, delicate, and fine-grained. When it is not, it is a shame for the baby looks most unbecomingly with red blotches or blackheads. Yet, quite aside from illnesses, advertised by the baby, can get various skin ailments due to infection or diet.

Impetigo, which spreads so rapidly from person to person, is a skin ailment from which many children have suffered. It can be passed from person to person merely by use of the same towels or wash cloths. When the baby shows red blotches on one portion of the skin, unaccompanied by any fever or sign of illness, and the spots tend to spread, it is wise and sensible to forego home remedies and let the doctor deal with this miserable burrowing organism.

Not infrequently mothers discover blackheads on the rosy cheeks of their fat, little puddings. "How can that be?" they wonder, since their darlings have the best of daily care. Blackheads are no indication of dirt but of the plugged pores of the skin. When the skin is unable to carry off the secretions from the oil glands. The excess fills up the pores and the skin is unable to breathe.

It would be found to over-loaded with secretions. The oil glands are unable to carry off the excess through the fine pores of the skin. The result is a plugged pore and the skin is unable to breathe.

Such a rash demands intensive study and experimentation to discover what foods are causing it and how they may be changed or replaced in the diet so that the child gets their particular type of nourishment without this disturbing and uncomfortable result.

For it can be taken for granted that with ordinary care and the right diet the average baby will have an unblemished skin.

Our leaflet, "Eczema and Allergic Dermatitis," may be had by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

LEFT-OVER OR CANNED STRING BEANS WITH ONION SAUCE

(Serves 4)

One quart left-over or canned string beans, 1 onion grated, 1 onion sliced with whole cloves, 2 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper to taste.

Simmer together covered, 20 minutes. Add a little water if left-over beans are used.

No matter how plain the dinner is, a surprise dessert will make it seem extra special. Here's a nutritious dessert that tastes wonderful.

PEANUT BUTTER ICE CREAM

One and one-half cups whole milk, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, well beaten; 1/4 cup peanut butter, 1/4 cup cold milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 egg whites, 2 tablespoons sugar.

Scald milk in double boiler. Blend flour, sugar and salt together; gradually stir in small amount of scalded milk. Then pour this mixture into the remaining milk in double boiler and cook 2 to 3 minutes longer. Cool. Meanwhile with a rotary egg beater, beat peanut butter and cold milk until smooth. Add this with vanilla to the cooled custard mixture. Fold in egg whites (which have been beaten with 2 tablespoons sugar) until stiff. Freeze in refrigerator tray until partially set and frozen. Turn into bowl and beat until smooth but not melted. Return to refrigerator tray and freeze until firm.

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Tomato and lemon juice, ready-to-eat cereal, soft-boiled eggs, baker's muffins, butter, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Broiled frankfurters, sauerkraut, long rolls, warmed, cut-up oranges and bananas, tea.

DINNER: Cream of mushroom soup, fried chicken, baked potatoes, celery, enriched bread, butter, peanut butter ice cream, coffee, milk.

McKENNEY On Bridge BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

The most interesting hands to me are those in which a player takes advantage of an opponent's mistake. After all, the cut and dried hands, even though beautifully played are sometimes monotonous.

Mr. Joe Low made her contract of three by playing the hand in the following manner: The second hand was ruffed and the king of hearts led North won with the ace and returned the third spade, which was ruffed. The jack of diamonds was then played and South won with the queen.

South at the point returned a heart which the declarer won and then played the eight of clubs. North split the honors and East won the trick with the ace. The diamond finesse was then taken and the ace of diamonds called.

At this point Mr. Low simply led her fourth diamond when North trumped and was then ended in clubs.

LEFT HOLDING THE TAG

Recently I had a blood count taken at a laboratory the report of which reads: Erythrocytes, 4,000,000. Hemoglobin, 78. Leucocytes, 4,150.

Two days later had another blood count taken at the same laboratory and the report of this one showed: Erythrocytes, 3,892,000. Hemoglobin, 78. Leucocytes, 4,250.

I know I am anemic but I am bewildered by the difference between these two tests.

The notation "Hemoglobin 78" in both reports, evidently from different laboratories, is remarkable. It probably means 78%—that is, the blood contains a little over three-fourths of the iron coloring matter that the blood of healthy person should contain. If there are 5 million red blood corpuscles (erythrocytes) per cubic millimeter (approximately 1-50th of a drop), in view of the 12% difference in the number of erythrocytes in the two reports it is odd, not to say stuporific, that precisely 78 something or other of hemoglobin was found in both counts.

I say suspicious, because if the hemoglobin estimates was made color comparison method the same specimen of blood may be read as 100% hemoglobin was one instrument and 80% or even only 78% on another.

Besides being the red coloring matter of blood the hemoglobin is the carrier of oxygen from the lungs to all the functioning cells and organs, and of carbon dioxide from the functioning cells and organs back to the lungs for excretion. So the amount or proportion of hemoglobin in the blood is important in every instance.

In the normal individual there are usually 7,000 or 8,000 leucocytes (white blood corpuscles) per cubic millimeter of blood. When the number of leucocytes is as low as 5,000—well, it is a good sign that the individual should begin to consider seriously the idea of consulting a physician. Among the many signs of disease, such as, pneumonia, undulant fever, malaria, influenza, (2) onset of measles, typhoid fever, (3) disease involving blood-forming tissues—spleen, bone marrow, lymph glands, (4) patient has been taking a sulfa drug, barbiturates, alcohol or other blood destroying drug.

He believes the wolf is only a large "rough dog" and makes an excellent pet.

To Produce Play at Westmount School

The pupils of Westmount Intermediate school will present a program of music and dramatics on March 28 at 8 p.m. in the Westmount assembly hall.

The program includes two plays, one of which is put on by the Grade VIII dramatics class, and entitled "An Airman's 48." The other play is put on by the Grade IX dramatics class and is entitled "Elmer." In addition to these there will be musical selections by the intermediate music class. Proceeds in aid of school activities.

There has been a full year of basketball at Westmount. The intermediate boys have shown themselves to be worthy city champions. The junior boys have shown even greater class during the season. They have shown conclusively that by this time they are the best in the city by beating both McCauley and Eastwood, the latter by 20 points.

Cadets Enrolled At South Side

The First South Edmonton Cadets were enrolled by District Commissioner Mrs. H. A. Elliott at a banquet and candle lighting service at Holy Trinity Church. Present at the ceremony were Mrs. C. A. Lyndon, cook examiner; Miss Earl Graham, captain, and mothers of the cadets.

Cadets who received their pink Mariatti were awarded her 100-hour war service badge and also a cyclists' badge. Elaine Sharp and Robin Munson also received cyclists' badges.

Hi-School Hi-Lights

WESTGLEN By Sheila Leslie

This last week has been the lull before the storm as Westglenners do their last-minute studying. Wrentham H.S., winners of Southern half of the Senior "B" championship, may visit us soon. A two-game series has been tentatively arranged for March 29 and 31 at Westglenn.

In their third game with Technical School, Westglenn, Seniors, triumphed 38-27 at Westglenn, Monday. A banquet was held Monday evening for the members of the Chess Club team, winners of house-league basketball.

Through the untiring efforts of Margaret Weir and Donna Dowser the Badminton Club has completed its annual tournament. Bill Graham and June Taylor both of grade 11, were winners of the singles. Jim Wood and Bill Graham won the boys' doubles while June Taylor and Evelyn Bird captured girls' doubles. Winners of the mixed doubles, were Bill Graham and Margaret Weir.

ST. MARY'S By June Lovette

March 17 has passed for another year, but memories of the St. Patrick's "Lil" presented by Grade 11 students will not be forgotten for a long time. The fashion parade gave in detail the dress of the modern school girl. The business girl and last but not least the happy bride.

The play "Elmer" was the outstanding event of the afternoon. Lorraine Rocque stole the show in portraying the role of the imp Elmer. Friday afternoon proved to be a most amusing, hilarious and entertaining one. Congratulations, Grade Eleven!

Only three more months of school and already thoughts of the graduation dance arise. A committee has been appointed, with Grant Du Fraine as president, to form plans for this major event.

Robin Munson, Audrey and Ethel Southam, Jo Pilcher and Helen Bergmann received coach's badges. At a previous meeting, Gretta Mariatti was awarded her 100-hour war service badge and also a cyclists' badge. Elaine Sharp and Robin Munson also received cyclists' badges.

Although the concert was not by any means, the only activity of the week, the hustle and excitement of the event seems to have outshone the others. But things will be back to normal next week as we return to the "ordinary, every day EHS life."

McDOUGALL By Deby Taradash

"Jinx Jamboree", the name of the next school dance at Commercial is appropriately named for the event will take place Friday April 13. Those on the arrangement committee are: Rosemarie Theiss, convener, Del Hagerman, Gordon Speers, Jessie McKeever, Ruby Ford, and Roy Gilie.

A grad executive was elected last Thursday with the officers as follows: president, Joann Wicklund; vice-president, Edna Patterson; secretary-treasurer, George Guld; staff advisor, E. Garlough. Grad class pictures were taken Thursday.

Another basketball game was held between Westglenn and Commercial Tuesday. Although it was a last moving game Commercial managed to top the score 27-24. G. Speers, H. Berg, J. Checholik, G. Kilbren, A. Barnett made up the Commercial team.

A girls' basketball House League has been formed under the direction of Mr. C. Hollingsworth. Captains of the teams are M. Higham, E. Roberts, D. Hagerman. A series of double-headers will be played during the noon hours on Tuesday and Friday. Eight games will be played and the winners will be presented with the Commercial trophy.

For Bird Houses

One of the classes in the coming Kiwanis Club bird house competition for young people is the "most unusual or odd house made from sticks, bark, old cans, etc." This means some bird house that while fulfilling all the requirements of a bird house, is also unusual.

One of these types is the bird house made of wood with a bark left on. Another is that made from pieces of tree trunk and a third of some other material is made from sawed lumber which is trimmed with yellow tape. And of those if properly made, makes a good home for some species of bird life.

They prefer houses which are made from natural material, as bark, parts of tree trunk, etc., as these have much in common with their usual nesting places.

Jack Pine slabs or spruce slabs make a splendid house. The material is easy to work and the markings well to the wood and weather fine. It is well, however, to drive a few small nails if the slab has been out to the weather for some time.

Another type is made by sawing a section of a tree in halves. Then hollowing out the cavity and making the opening, and then fastening the two halves together with screws. The top should be covered with a slab of the same kind of material to keep out the rain.

Another type, mentioned above is one made from sawed lumber, then trimmed with bark or twigs. A quite a pattern may be developed, especially by the use of yellow tape. The house may have the appearance of a small log house, or of the style of an old English timbered house. Many other kinds of decorations may be made with a few twigs, either used whole or split in halves. As willow is not a hard wood, any boy or girl can make a house of this type, which will be very attractive to feathered friend.

Successful performances of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" The rehearsals, and busy hours spent on scenery and costumes, are about to be sadly missed, but the good things must come to an end. Other activities can now resume normal functioning, and life come back to normal.

Beyond the Easter holidays, exams are beginning to loom, and the old school books are again calling for attention.

VICTORIA By Peggy Johnson

In an exhibition basketball game on Friday March 16, against an All-Star high school team, Vic's Senior Boys shocked their worthy opponents 78-20. Proceeds from the game will help to send the boys in red and black to Cardston for the provincial high school football.

Most Victories are pouring over textbooks in last-minute preparation for the Easter examinations, which began on Friday and will continue until next Thursday afternoon.

The March edition of the Vic Argosy appeared Thursday, providing a welcome diversion from exams. The results of Vic's popularity poll which were announced, along with pictures of the winners in the Argosy, caused many flutterings of excitement throughout the school.

Miss K. Teskey, teacher of French at VHS, and staff adviser to the Students' Council, was taken to the hospital this week. Miss Teskey is greatly missed by the staff and student body alike, and it is hoped that she will be back at school soon.

Alcartra Gerben Performs Record Feats

Edmonton Man's Dairy Farm Houses World Champion Holstein Producer of Butterfat

Visualize this! So, you had a trifling bit of trouble obtaining a pound of butter today, eh?

Well, how would like to have a butter machine? How would you like to have a cow in the back-yard night now; particularly a bovine by the name of Alcartra Gerben?

This six-year-old Holstein, pride of the Hays Limited Dairy Farms, is a champion in which terms she has completed a year's Dominion contest, supervised milking and Gerben in twelve months produced the world's shattering feat of producing 1700 pounds of butterfat.

ELITE OF HOLSTEINS

This Canadian cow, born and raised in the famous Southern Alberta range-land, is stabled at a barn that is today housing the elite of the world's Holsteins.

Hays Limited turned down $30,000 for Alcartra Gerben. In the stall next to her is Doncrest Peg Top Burke, another six-year-old Holstein which holds the world record for milk and butter on twice-a-day milking. Doncrest is not for sale either. Breeders dangled $10,000 in front of Hays for this one and were refused.

In still another stall is a 15-year-old cow, Hays Snowden Lady, the greatest living four-quarter of the Holstein breed. Her last two calves brought $11,000. She is also the mother of the highest testin, high-record cow of the breed, Hays Snowden Lady The Second.

BETTER PRODUCERS

It costs no more to raise a purebred and actually the cost of upkeep is lower. For instance, it costs about fifty cents a day. This includes 22 pounds of mixed grains, some roughage and 130 pounds of water daily (about eight large pails).

Purebreds produce in abundance.

ance; grade cows cannot do better than a quarter as well.

Government agencies are now planning to re-establish naval, army and air force personnel. In many cases farms are being purchased and the men will be helped by government grant.

Thus, it is reasoned, if purebred stock is obtained, the men will have a greater chance of success. STARTED IN 1912

It costs even more to keep up a herd that is largely made up of grade cattle and you seldom find a grade cow that will produce one quarter as much as a purebred, points out President Hays.

He should know.

Back in 1912, the Hays family started a small dairy. They had grades and productivity records on each cow were kept.

Then, in 1926, they purchased their first purebred Holsteins and now they have developed the greatest cow in the world. In fact they have five of the world's finest Holsteins which must, in itself, be some sort of a record.

HOLDS WIDE INTEREST

Breeders in Canada and all over the world are keenly interested in Alcartra Gerben.

For instance if the calf which she is now carrying is a bull, its value will be not less than $15,000. Usually a dairyman wants heifer calves, but when you have a great cow like this one, it is much more important that you obtain bull calves.

Under present-day, modern artificial means, a young bull, starting at nine months of age, can inseminate 500 cows in his first year. When you consider that a champion bull, one that comes from the mating of world champion parents, commands a stud fee of $100 for each cow, you can readily understand the value

Set Committee On Election Act At 3 Members

Efforts of opposition members to have a legislative committee which will investigate the Alberta Election Act raised to five members were defeated in the Legislature Friday, when a motion setting up a three-member committee was approved by the house.

The motion, introduced by Premier Ernest Manning, names Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, as committee chairman, and R. D. Jorgenson (S.C. Pembina) and J. Percy Page (Ind.-Edmonton) as members.

CCF REQUEST

During Thursday's sitting of the assembly Elmer E. Roper (CCF-Edmonton), requested that the committee be increased to include five members, one of whom would be F. L. A. J. E. Liesemer (CCF-Calgary). The suggestion was supported by the CCF members.

of these highly prized animals. But that's for the breeders.

It is enough for Canadians in particular to know that a Canadian cow is the best producing cow in the world today. It is also a matter of domestic pride that the Hays boys have accomplished this record-shattering feat in 33 years of effort and it is a definite tribute to a great herd which is, incidentally, the largest Holstein herd in Canada, including as it does 650 head.

But what we really liked about Alcartra Gerben's record was the picture of that lush, creamy butter. Really, a mountain of it.

ported by Mayor A. Davison (Ind.-Calgary).

When he spoke Friday, Mr. Manning said no good purpose would be served by enlarging the committee. He explained he did not wish to discredit the CCF members in the house, but felt the enlargement would only increase representation from the multiple-member constituencies of Edmonton and Calgary.

The three-member board gave representation to one cabinet minister, one member from a multiple-member riding, and one member from a rural riding, where the single transferable vote system is used.

hearings would accept representations from any individual, political party or group that wished to present submissions. Report of the committee will be brought before the 1949 session of the Legislature, when members on all sides of the house will have the opportunity to debate the findings, the premier added.

Big Rural Power Program Is Seen

Rural electrification is expected to be the biggest role taken by electricity in this country in the post-war years. Norman B. Muir, Montreal, general supply sales manager for the Northern Electric Company, Ltd., said here Friday.

Mr. Muir was visiting Edmonton on the return leg of a trip to Vancouver where he attended the annual convention of the Canadian Electrical Association, Western Division. Mr. Muir is also visiting branch offices of his firm from Victoria to Port Arthur. After leaving the city Friday night, he was scheduled to stop at Calgary for the weekend, and then on to Regina, Winnipeg, Port Arthur and Fort William. His trip is an annual event.

Mr. Muir stated that the Northern Electric company will play a large part in the rural electrification program.

Other new developments of the company must remain secret for the present, but he said. However, he explained that a number of electrical developments brought out to fit the needs of war, will be adapted to important civilian uses.

Prize Is Donated To Red Cross Fund

Something new in contributions to the Red Cross was reported Friday by Safeway Stores Ltd. The Safeway main office has made a purchase of a quantity of stamps, the value of which exceeds $5,000. This month, the prize of $5, which would ordinarily be raffled amongst the employees, was donated to the Red Cross fund by the winning store, No. 156 at 8130 118 avenue.

War Veterans Insurance NOW AVAILABLE

Offers protection, without medical examination in most cases, to those discharged.

When Canada entered the present war, it was realized that men and women who went into uniform faced the possibility of returning to civilian life with their health impaired, or with some physical disability. It was realized also that, as a result of this impairment in health or disability, many service men and women would be unable to provide protection for their families through the normal channels of commercial life insurance. To meet this situation, Parliament, at its 1944 session, passed an Act known as the Veterans Insurance Act. This Act has now been proclaimed and applications may be made for policies under it.

WHAT ARE THE SPECIAL FEATURES OF WAR VETERANS INSURANCE?

One of the principal features of War Veterans Insurance is that, with very few exceptions, it is available at low cost, without medical examination. No extra premiums are charged where the veteran's occupation is unusually hazardous—such as, mining, construction, commercial flying, etc.—and, in addition, premiums are waived in the event of total disability. There is no extra cost for this waiver of premium.

WHO MAY APPLY FOR WAR VETERANS INSURANCE?

Any ex-service man or woman is eligible. In addition, widows or widowers of veterans may apply for the insurance on themselves if the veterans were not insured under the Act. Merchant Navy personnel in receipt of a war disability pension from the present war are eligible also.

WHAT TYPES OF INSURANCE ARE AVAILABLE?

The plans of insurance available are 10 Payment Life, 15 Payment Life, 20 Payment Life, Life Paid-up at 65 and Life Paid-up at 85; that is, premiums may be paid for 10, 15 or 20 years or until age 65 or 85 respectively. The longer the term of payment the smaller the premium required. Term and Endowment policies are not issued. The insurance is of the non-participating type, that is, no dividends are paid.

WHAT AMOUNTS OF INSURANCE ARE PROVIDED FOR?

Policies may be applied for in amounts ranging from $500 to $10,000. The amount of the policy is payable only in the event of the death of the insured.

HOW ARE PREMIUMS PAID?

At the option of the veteran, premiums may be paid monthly, quarterly, half-yearly, or annually. There is no additional cost to the veteran for paying premiums on a monthly basis.

IS THERE ANY CASH SURRENDER VALUE?

After premiums have been paid for two full years, the policy may be surrendered for its Cash Surrender Value, or it may be transferred to Paid-up Insurance or Extended Term Insurance. There is no provision for loans against the policy.

AT DEATH HOW WILL THE INSURANCE BE PAID?

The maximum amount which may be paid at death is $1,000, with the remainder being paid, at the option of the insured, in one of the following three ways:

- (1) The money, plus 3½ per cent interest, may be paid to the beneficiary in equal instalments over a period of five, ten, fifteen or twenty years, as selected. If the beneficiary dies, the payments are continued to his or her estate.
- (2) The money may be paid in equal instalments as long as the beneficiary lives.
- (3) As in (2), but instalments are guaranteed for five, ten, fifteen or twenty years, whether the beneficiary lives or dies.

WHAT IS THE EFFECT OF A WAR DISABILITY PENSION?

If, on the death of the insured, the beneficiary receives a pension, the insurance money will be paid as follows:

- (1) If the policy is paid up, the full face amount of it will be paid to the beneficiary in the manner elected by the insured, plus the pension.
- (2) If the policy is not paid up, then the capitalized value of the pension will be added to the face amount of the policy.

EXAMPLES OF MONTHLY PREMIUMS PER $1,000 INSURANCE

AGE	Payable for			Payable to
	10 years	15 years	20 years	age 65	age 85
20	$2.89	$2.12	$1.74	$1.20	$1.14
25	3.18	2.34	1.93	1.39	1.30
30	3.53	2.60	2.15	1.64	1.51
35	3.93	2.91	2.42	1.98	1.78
40	4.38	3.23	2.76	2.36	2.09
45	4.88	3.61	3.16	2.76	2.40
50	5.43	4.04	3.64	3.20	2.84

NOTE: If it is desired to pay the premium annually, multiply the above rate by 12. There is no additional cost for taking advantage of the monthly payment plan.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the nearest office of the Department of Veterans Affairs or by writing direct to the Superintendent of Veterans Insurance, Department of Veterans Affairs, Ottawa. Services of a trained counsellor are available for individual interview with each veteran who wishes information concerning this insurance.

Issued under the authority of Honourable Ian A. Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans Affairs.

House Passes Social Credit Board's Funds

Marked by spirited clashes between Social Credit and CCF members of the legislature, the Social Credit board for the coming fiscal year was passed by the legislature in committee of supply Friday afternoon. The vote was for $26,860, an increase of $3,720 over the 1944 figure.

Independent and CCF speakers urged the vote be withheld. Mayor Andrew Dawson (Calgary), introduced a motion to that effect, but it was lost on a voice vote.

First speaker against the expenditure, Mr. Dawson said it was unnecessary, because the government had announced it will establish a department of economic affairs. The vote will mean a duplication of effort and expense, the Calgary member declared.

NOT INTRODUCED

Mr. L. A. J. E. Liesemer (CCF, Calgary), said that although the Social Credit government has been in office for nine years, Social Credit has not been introduced into the province. He intimated it would be a waste of public funds to continue expenditure for the Social Credit board.

"We are still trying to have Social Credit, and we will continue to try," Hon. C. L. Gerhart, minister of trade and industry, replied. The minister contended the SC board was necessary because of the Social Credit Realization Act, passed in 1938.

Elmer E. Roper (CCF, Edmonton) touched off a lively controversy when he charged that the SC board vote was "the use of public funds to carry on political propaganda."

The CCF member scored statements of various Social Credit speakers which he suggested were "inspired" by the technical advisor to the Social Credit board. These statements were dangerous to Alberta and to the Dominion, Mr. Roper contended.

Give us proof! "Read the statements!" "Prove it!" Social Credit members fired at Mr. Roper. For the next few minutes CCF leader's remarks were punctuated with cries of "Prove it!" by Social Credit back-benchers.

PROOF DEMANDED

Hon. B. Earl Ansley, minister of education, and Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, both former members of the Social Credit board, call on Mr. Roper for proof of his assertions.

The CCF leader contended members of the Social Credit board, who received travelling expenses, went up and down the province giving the people political propaganda. In addition, the S.C. board members received their sessional indemnities.

Premier Ernest Manning rose in the debate to register objections against a member making false accusations against a member of the government service who was not privileged to come into the house and speak in his own defence.

I take strong exception to that type of attack on the civil service," the premier told members.

Question: "Taylor, Social Credit again said members of the Social Credit board did not denounce political parties at their meetings. Instead, they denounced principles. 'Sneering staff' was Mr. Roper's charge to the S.C. whip's remarks."

BOURCIER SPEAKS

A. V. Bourcier (Soc-Lac Ste Anne), chairman of the Social Credit board, objected to the charge of sneering staff. He said any S.C. board member had a brief for the Nazis in any form. "When Mr. Roper makes accusations of sympathy for the Nazis, he is not tolerated," he declared.

Mr. Bourcier said the CCF government in Saskatchewan has made provision for an economic advisory board which will map out action connected with the CCF program in that province. Even in this action, the Saskatchewan government is imitating everything Alberta has done, the S.C. member added.

I have no objection to a board that will bring in Social Credit."

GIRLS—"I'm wondering what we should charge for our story when we get back—10 or 15 cents a word!"

Housing Act Correspondence

Below is a letter from Hon. J. L. Isley, Dominion finance minister, to Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general of Alberta, in which the Dominion minister sets out his views as to legislation which would make the National Housing Act (1944) applicable in Alberta. Mr. Isley's letter is followed by Mr. Maynard's reply, which outlines the Alberta government's action in respect to Mr. Isley's suggestions.

The two letters are from a file of recent correspondence between Edmonton and Ottawa on the subject of the national housing act. Regulations designed to make the act operative in Alberta were introduced into the Legislature Friday afternoon by Mr. Maynard.

Ottawa, 16th March, 1945.
Honorable Lucien Maynard,
Attorney General of Alberta,
Edmonton, Alberta.

Dear Mr. Maynard,
I wish to thank you for your letter of March 8th on the question of the possible operation of the National Housing Act in Alberta.

Your spirit of co-operation and readiness to meet valid points raised by the lending institutions gives me confidence that we may be successful in solving the two problems which apparently are left, namely, the difficulties under the Vendors and Mortgagees Costs Exaction Act and the difficulties under the amended Mechanics Lien Act.

With regard to legal costs and fees, you indicate your readiness to modify the provincial statute to

Mr. Roper replied, "This Social Credit board is not a board, it is a public expense. Saskatchewan has set up a board to really put a program into operation."

"The house has been listening to this line of 'bunk' for year after year," Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, remarked.

NARROW MINDS
He added "the minds of some of these people are so narrow one would have to pry their ears apart to comb their hair."

"I would rather have ivory between the ears than soapuds," Mr. Roper retorted.

The S.C. board appropriation also featured a further exchange between Mr. Roper and Mr. Hooke on the books "Make This Your Canada" and "Social Planning for Canada."

W. J. Williams (Veterans-Edmonton) spoke against the S.C. board appropriation. He said the money could be used to better advantage for tourist advertising, recalling that many speakers in the house this year had urged greater expenditures for tourist advertising and road work.

After discussion had ended, James Hartley (Soc-Macleod), chairman of the committee of supply, took a vote on Mayor Davidson's motion and declared it lost.

The committee then proceeded to the next item in the trade and industry appropriation.

Many Women Depend On It

Come across a company of women having a chit-chat and sooner or later they are almost sure to get around to the question of health and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This is because women of all ages have learned to depend on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to help them over the trying times of their lives.

The maiden growing into womanhood, the young mother before and after childbirth, the older woman experiencing the change of life—all find Dr. Chase's Nerve Food just what they need to enrich the blood and build up nervous energy and to help them through these trying times with least disturbance.

Headache, loss of sleep, indigestion and feelings of fatigue and depression are avoided and they have the energy to live a full and joyous life. Ask for the new economy size bottle of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food FOR NEW PEB AND ENERGY

owner exception registration is necessary for a valid privilege or loan in Quebec. A note, in the case of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, for the purpose of the mortgage, is provided for the mortgagee upon consent of the mortgagee to the performance of the work.

Possibly the adoption by Alberta of a registration requirement in respect of National Housing Act loans and a requirement for the consent of the mortgagee to the performance of work after the mortgage is registered would be sufficient to meet the objections of the lending institutions. This would leave the fundamental principle and the general operation of your present law still intact, but would provide an assurance to the National Housing Act mortgagee that the original security could not be undermined without his knowledge or consent.

Before approaching the lending companies with the above compromise suggestion on the mechanics lien matter, I would like to have your comment. If you feel that such a suggestion can be worked out you might advise me by return mail and I will then put forward the proposal to the lending companies and endeavor to secure their active participation in the National Housing Act financing in Alberta.

Yours very truly,
J. L. ISLEY
Edmonton, Alberta
March 20, 1945.

Dear Mr. Isley,
I am in receipt of your letter of the 16th of March, 1945, and am very hopeful that I can satisfactorily comply with the suggestions contained in your communication.

I am attaching an amended draft Bill which incorporates the provisions of the former draft and includes provisions exempting from the Vendors and Mortgagees Costs Exaction Act, costs, fees and expenses provided under The National Housing Act and any regulation passed thereunder.

You will note that the Bill likewise provides that The Mechanics Lien Act as it existed prior to the passing of the 1945 amendments shall be applicable to all loans made under The National Housing Act. I think this should meet any objections to the existing Act.

I can give you the assurance that the Government will not amend the Rules of Court which provide that costs shall not be awarded to a mortgagee in an undefended action in respect of a mortgage or agreement for sale where the whole of the consideration arose before the first day of July, A.D. 1936 so as to affect mortgages under The National Housing Act 1944.

I trust these concessions will enable you to approach the lending companies.

I may say that the House is planning to rise on the 28th instant and I would appreciate word from you as to whether this Bill is acceptable to the lending companies, as soon as possible.

Yours very truly,
LUCIEN MAYNARD
The Honorable J. L. Isley,
Minister of Finance,
Ottawa, Canada.

McCoy Health Service

Stiffneck is also called wryneck and torticollis. It refers to a painful affection of the neck brought about by a contraction of the muscles which causes the neck to be twisted.

As a consequence the head is held in an unnatural position with the back part of the head pulled toward the shoulder of the affected side or the side on which the muscles are shortened. The face is crooked and tilted toward the opposite shoulder.

The patient finds it impossible to turn the head in a normal way and when he wishes to look toward the side it is necessary for him to turn the entire body. To his friends, his trouble may seem humorous, but I assure you it is far from funny to the victim.

Although a stiffneck is a very uncomfortable experience, while it lasts, fortunately in most cases the difficulty will disappear within a few days. In some of the milder cases the painful stiffness may last for only a few hours.

There are several possible causes of wryneck. In a patient having a tendency toward rheumatism, exposure to cold or to dampness may be sufficient to bring on the painful stiffness, as such exposure may cause the rheumatic toxins to settle in the affected muscles. When a patient awakens in the morning with a stiffneck without any previous history or exposure it is likely that the cause has been a strained position during sleep which has resulted in a spasm of the muscles or upon the nerve supply to them.

Another helpful treatment is a treatment given by a graduate of one of the chiropractic colleges. It will bring complete relief. However, if the trouble has been present for some time, then manual manipulations may be necessary. While it is perfectly true that in many cases the stiffness will disappear within a few days, I suggest that when you find your neck has become stiff and painful that you try applying heat right away. It does not matter much what form of heat you use, as the main thing is to get it on the painful muscles and keep it there until you begin to get a little relief.

Use a small heat lamp, the hot water bottle, an electric pad hot applications, or any other kind of heat treatment, and keep heat on the painful part for at least 15 minutes. You may need to keep it on for 30 minutes. Repeat several times during the day, being careful to avoid chilling the parts once the heat treatment is over.

These measures will shorten the period of your distress.

Fears Civil War In Stand Taken By Quebec MP's

OTTAWA, March 24 (CP)—Action of a group of Quebec independents in the Commons opposing Canadian participation in the San Francisco security conference was criticized yesterday by Fisheries Minister Bertrand and Maurice Lalonde, Liberal member for Labelle constituency in Quebec.

Both Quebec Liberals opposed isolationism on the part of Quebec and said the independent group opposing participation in the conference was advancing an illogical argument. They were the ones who were most opposed to war and yet they also were against organizing to prevent war.

Mr. Bertrand said the policy of the independent group was advocating was one which would eventually lead to civil war.

MEMBERS OPPOSED

Quebec independents who opposed Canadian participation in the San Francisco security conference were criticized yesterday by Fisheries Minister Bertrand and Maurice Lalonde, Liberal member for Labelle constituency in Quebec.

Those who were opposing all participating in the present war still were ready to sell agricultural and industrial products to Britain at profitable prices, he said.

Mr. Bertrand also referred to the British situation.

I am sure a common sense will like to see the facts set right, he said. We want peace, but we want defend Poland but to save our own skins and the skins of 24 other nations.

Govt. Will Not Consider Lower Age For Voting

By CHESTER BLOOM
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, March 24.—The Dominion government has not the slightest intention of lowering the vote age of electors to 18 years for civilians as well as soldiers on active duty, it was learned Friday from high authority.

The federal cabinet has never considered, or even given any thought to the subject, it was stated; when the resolution passed by the Saskatchewan government asking lowering of civilian voting age to 18 years was cited.

Under the War Service Electors' Act passed by parliament for wartime only, voters who are on active war service, 18 years old, or over and British subjects, are entitled to vote in federal elections. But this privilege was granted solely because these young people have offered to sacrifice, if necessary, their lives for their country, and for no other reason.

UP TO PROVINCES

Within its own boundaries, of course, any province can fix the voting age of electors for provincial elections—that's up to Saskatchewan—but the federal government would not consider any such change at present, and is unlikely to in the future.

There will be some minor amendments to the War Service Electors' Act, governing cases of young people who enlisted before they were 18 and were discharged from active service before they were 21, but these will deal only with such specific cases, and be subject to rigid limitations and restrictions.

That's the official government view. But in discussing the subject with various members of parliament, it was learned that a number hold even stronger views than those outlined above. There is a growing feeling on both sides of parliament that what is really needed in Canada is electoral reform to induce electors who are entitled to vote to cast their ballots in national elections.

REAL WEAKNESS

"Since 1940," said one of these MPs, "do you know that an average of only about 53 per cent of electors entitled to vote actually have cast ballots. That's the real weakness which needs correction in our voting system—not extending the voting franchise by lowering the age."

"What would be gained?" he continued, "by lowering the voting age of civilians? Remember since women have the vote, you would be asking shoals of young girls of 18 and 19 years to exercise the franchise. How many girls of that age do you think are interested in such questions as social credit, post-war reconstruction, housing, Dominion-provincial rights, taxation and debt? All you would be doing by lowering the voting age would be increasing the mass of voters, and by a much larger proportion, those who would not perform such a duty."

It was pointed out that in Australia, all voters entitled to the franchise must vote or be subject to a small fine. Experience has shown, however, that it is not the fine which enforces the voting up to 95 per cent of the registration, but the humiliation of being called on to explain why they have failed in this primary duty to the state.

That does not mean, however, that the government is giving any thought at the moment to a like reform in Canada. The time is too short; the same reason, lack of time, makes it certain that no consideration will be given to the subject of single transferable voting in federal elections; that subject may come up in the first session of the next parliament, following a general election, but not now.

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP)—The Italian government has confiscated 114 Rome apartments owned by the late Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, according to a Rome dispatch to the Office of War Information.

Ask Subsidize Price of Eggs Winter Months

A meeting of Alberta Poultry Producers Friday night passed a resolution asking the Dominion government to subsidize eggs at 5 cents a dozen during the months from September to February.

The resolution was presented to the meeting by the Poultry Industries Committee of Northern Alberta. The subsidy is asked to encourage poultry farmers to increase their production of winter eggs. It was pointed out that in peace time Britain demands eggs from Canada during the winter months and some effort should be made to increase Canadian production during the winter period so market will be maintained in peace time.

SIMILAR MOTION

A similar resolution was passed recently by the Ontario Poultry Industries committee asking the government to subsidize eggs at 8 cents per dozen during the fall and winter months.

A. D. Davey, associate chief of Dominion poultry service, addressed the meeting and said prospects for Canadian poultry are very bright, particularly for the next two years.

He said the United States government has indicated it wanted 30 million pounds of Canadian poultry this year. During 1944 total exports to all countries were 31 million pounds and prospects this year are for at least 50 million pounds, Mr. Davey said.

About 60 producers attended the meeting. The Poultry Industries Committee consists of two representatives from each of the following: Produce Plant, hatcheries, feed manufacturers, Retail Merchants Association; and four representatives from the Alberta Poultry Federation.

G. M. Cornie was chairman.

Military Attache Here For Meeting

Major Walter A. Wood, military attache, United States Embassy, Ottawa, and internationally known mountain climber, arrived in Edmonton Saturday to address the annual meeting of the Alpine Club of Canada to be held at the Coronation hotel Saturday night.

He will speak on "Mountains of the Yukon Territory," and will show a film taken on a climbing expedition in these mountains taken in 1941.

Major Wood has made many climbs in Jasper and Banff national parks, and also in India and on the European continent.

Annual Drive For Red Cross Is Successful

There was no worry Saturday about this year's local Red Cross drive exceeding last year's, on the part of Northern Alberta campaign officials. The question was, by how much would the previous mark be passed? To date it has shown an increase of $27,851, with total donations of $204,851.

Of this amount, $132,300 had been contributed by city residents, and $72,458 by their country cousins. Donations were still being received ear-marked for prisoner-of-war parcels, following up last Saturday's haul at various Edmonton stations. Officials said Saturday that further contributions of this nature were welcome.

FINAL WEEK

Monday will see the final week of the Dominion-wide campaign get underway. The drive concludes March 31. There is no house-to-house canvassing this year, and citizens who had retained donations for the visit of a canvasser are urged to take or allow these contributions to donation headquarters at Sterling Shoes, Ltd., 10150 Jasper avenue.

R. H. Settle is Northern Alberta chairman of the drive, and E. E. McGarvey campaign manager for Edmonton.

Reserve Fusiliers Issue Publication

Maintaining an interesting liaison between the reserve unit and the active members serving overseas, The Fusilier, publication of the Second (R) Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers, was distributed this week by the editorial staff headed by Capt. R. G. Hagen, publisher, and Lt. C. C. Howard, editor.

Other members of the staff are: associate editor, Hon. Capt. S. D. Trites; honorary editors, Lt.-Col. H. E. Pearson, MC, and Maj. H. J. Towerston, MC.

The newspaper is filled with announcements of forthcoming events, humorous side-lights on reserve army life, a chaplain's corner, and other interesting and informative items.

List Requirements Varsity Admission

The registrar of the University, A. E. Ottewill, stated Saturday that there appears to be some uncertainty and confusion in the minds of some ex-service personnel, and also of some high school teachers as to what is required in order to obtain standing in matriculation subjects and admission to the university.

The University of Alberta requires that ex-service men and women attending regular high schools must take and pass the regular Grade XII departmental examinations in the subjects which such students may respectively need to complete their matriculation standing.

Any such student should, before beginning high school work, write to the registrar of the university and obtain approval of the proposed matriculation program.

Markets to Close

Commencing today, and continuing for the next six Saturdays the Montreal and Toronto stock markets will be closed in order to allow them to concentrate on the 8th Victory Loan. They will be closed on Saturdays only.

Prices For Cattle Mostly Unchanged

OTTAWA, March 2.—(CP)—Cattle prices showed little change on Canadian livestock markets this week but calves sold down at some points and gained at others. Sheep and lambs ruled steady while hogs lost recent gains at Toronto and Montreal.

At Toronto, weighty steers held a top of $13, with other $12.75 down, butcher steers $10-$11.75, some choice $12.25, Montreal good steers $12.25-$12.50, five head $13. Good cows up to $9.50.

Maritime choice cattle top $11, FOB, country points, winning slaughter steers $12-$12.50, fair proportion $11.50 down; better cows $8.25-$9, outstanding load $9.60; Calgary good, choice steers $11.25-$12; Edmonton $11.25-$12 also; Prince Albert up to $11.25; Moose Jaw $11.75; Saskatoon $11-$12 and Regina up to $12.

Choice veals at Toronto $16, Montreal top veals $15; Winnipeg $14, Calgary up to $12.50; Edmonton $12, Prince Albert $11.50, Moose Jaw $12, Saskatoon $13.

LIVESTOCK TRAFFIC

EDMONTON, Mar. 24.—Total receipts of cars trucked, driven and shipped by rail to local livestock agencies: Cattle, 419, calves 13, hogs 648, sheep 19.

Shipments on March 22: To British Columbia, 3 cars cattle; to Eastern Canada, 2 cars hogs; to country points, 1 car cattle.

Local Produce

BUTTER PRICES
No. 1, 34½; No. 2, 32½; No. 3, 30½.

CREAM PRICES
Prices for cream delivered to Edmonton creameries: Special grade, 44; No. 1, 42; No. 2, 40; No. 3, 38.

All prices include government bonus of 10¢ to farmers.

EGG PRICES

Dealers now paying to country shippers: A large, 29; A medium, 27; A pullet, 21; grade B, 24; grade C, 15-16.

Wholesale to retail: A large, 37; A medium, 35; A pullet, 29; grade B, 31; grade C, 22.

Retail to consumers: A large, 44; A medium, 42; A pullet, 36; grade B, 38; grade C, 27.

Egg production in the northern section of the province shows further seasonal increase. Receipts as reported by registered grading stations show an increase of approximately 12 per cent over the preceding week.

General quality continued good, averaging approximately 80 per cent, top grades approximately 90 per cent.

Percentage of soiled eggs becoming more noticeable with spring thaws prevailing. The market remains strong. Offerings through the Special Producers' Board consisted of seven carlots for storage under the fall contract, four carlots for export in the shell and four carlots grade B and grade A pullets for immediate sale.

Drying. Other shipments include one carlot grade C exported to the United States, and one carlot interprovincial for northern army canteens. Other movements northward confine to light LCL shipments.

POULTRY PRICES

Both the live and dressed poultry market remains rather inactive, with prices for live birds showing a slight fall and slacker chickens. These are paid for at prevailing market quotations.

Shipments include one carlot frozen turkeys to Montreal and one carlot frozen grade C and grade D mixed chickens and fowl to the United States. The program for delivery of broilers during the spring and summer months, whereby guaranteed prices are made up to August 1st, or 30¢ per pound on the basis A milked, less cost for processing, is meeting very favorably with producers in certain sections. However, the brooding facilities for birds undertaking to a minimum until warmer weather sets in. Hatchery operators report favorable demand for cockerel chicks for delivery latter part of April and May.

Receipts—Cattle Calves Hogs Sheep
Total 1880 106 2124 256

Trading was brisk on the cattle market this past week, with prices fully steady on all classes. Receipts were considerably lighter, due in part to the seasonal road bind, and all offerings were cleared up readily under some what easier gradings. The bulk of the good to choice steers sold from $11.25 to $11.75, with a few strictly choice realizing $12 per cwt. Good to choice heifers were mostly from $10 to $10.75 per cwt. with the odd extreme top at $11.75.

The per cent market, held firm throughout. Good light cows trading from $8.50 to $9 per cwt. The bulk of good to choice cows sold from $7.50 to $8.50 per cwt. Bulls were unchanged selling from $6 to $7.50, while a few heavies sold from $7.75 to $8 per cwt.

The following are the quotations:

CATTLE
Good-choice fed calves $11.25 to 12.00
Good-choice steers 11.25 to 12.00
Fair-medium steers 10.50 to 11.50
Fair-medium to fair steers 8.00 to 10.00
Good-choice light heifers 10.00 to 11.00
Fair-medium heifers 8.00 to 10.00
Common to fair heifers 7.00 to 9.00
Good-choice cows 8.50 to 9.00
Fair to medium cows 7.50 to 8.00

Self-Watering Seed Box Helps Get Early Start

Miss Margaret Hart, Girls' Work Amateur gardeners who start Victory garden seeds indoors will find success easier if they make use of the latest device for watering—wick feeding. You bore a hole in the bottom of a shallow box (seeds-men sell them knocked down); insert a wick, preferably of fibre glass, about 4 inches long. A lamp wick, or even a piece of cotton clothesline will serve quite well. The box is elevated on two pieces of wood, so that the lower end of the wick can be immersed in water in a saucer, pan, or what have you.

This simple device solves the most difficult problem of managing a seed box, which is watering. Keep the reservoir filled, and the soil in the box will remain at just the right state of dampness, without dripping or drying.

To start the action, soil is first saturated by lowering the box in a tub of water; and after it has stopped dripping, it is placed in a dark place until the seeds germinate. Sphagnum moss can be used, if desired, to prevent damping-off, which is a fungus disease that frequently attacks seedlings. Rub the moss through a coarse sieve or colander and place a layer of this shredded moss over the soil in the flat, to the depth of 1/4 to 1/2 inch. Firm and saturate soil and moss. Drop the seeds on the moss, and cover very lightly with a thin layer of sphagnum. Proceed from this point on as with soil culture.

Seedlings may be sown in this seed starter in rows, broadcast or in plant bands. When sown in rows or broadcast, more seedlings can be grown; but either they should be transplanted once indoors to another starter in which the plant bands are used; or they should be sown late enough to permit transplanting to the open garden before they get too large.

For sowing in rows, mark rows two inches apart by pressing lightly in the soil the edge of a ruler, then drop the seeds evenly along the row thus marked and cover lightly with fine soil or sand. Firm the soil by pressing lightly with a block of wood.

Top Cut—Wick is pushed through hole in bottom of flat, frayed top is embedded in soil.

Lower Cut—Lower end of wick is immersed in water in dish below flat. Wick keeps soil moist.

To broadcast, shake seed from packet so that it falls as evenly as possible over the entire flat; then cover lightly with a fine soil or sand and firm by pressing lightly with a block of wood.

Immediately sprouts appear place the box in the sunniest window you own. A kitchen window is good, because humidity is always greater there.

Timely in all Zones to April 15.

Post-War Car Will Include New Features

The fabulously fancy or ultra-modern automobile, designed chiefly for eye and sales appeal, will not be given garage space by the average motorist, according to findings of the Automobile Association.

The A.A. findings constitute the initial installment of a continuing study to determine what are the things that the public wants in a car of the future.

"If the car follows normal expectancy and turns out to be what the public wants, it will not be the tear-drop vision, but instead it will be a greater extent than ever embody basic elements of safety, utility, economy and comfort.

There is little question that the war has had considerable effect upon the motorist's thinking along these lines. The stark realities we face in trying to keep over 24,000,000 passenger cars rolling on the highways in North America for the duration has compelled us all to visualize our car of the future from a very practical standpoint.

Automobile owners have grown to think in terms of long life for tires and batteries. As a result of having to do things we rarely, if ever, did before by way of car maintenance, we conceive the post-war car as a vehicle in which, for example, we shall be better able to change and check tires, batteries, oil or lubrication, and one which can be parked readily without scraping over-very fenders.

Automobile designers will do well to remember that car owners are also thinking of, and dreading, the possibility of considerable loss of life and limb in traffic accidents following this war. It is small wonder, then, that great attention is being paid to elaborate color schemes, chromium trims or "swanky" patterned upholstery, while there is an enormous amount of interest in the safety features of the automobile with an upsurging demand for greater visibility.

Here is a series of suggestions recently submitted to the Society of Automotive Engineers as regards the post-war car. Among these were:

More durable bumpers, even on the sides of cars, but of standardized heights. Improvements in the ventilating system, as well as insulation to reduce noise. Smoother-bodied car, with greater vision front and back. More durable windshield wipers, and one to be placed on the rear window. Roomier interior, with adequate space for three passengers, including driver, in the front seat. Driver's seat should have up-and-down as well as fore and aft adjustability. Three-door car, doing away with left rear door for reasons of safety and economy should receive serious consideration.

Effective defrosters and larger, rear-view mirrors. Reduction of headlight glare through the use of polarized lights. Drain-cock, fan belt, generator, water pump, and radiator hose connections should be much more accessible, and better provision should be made for application of jack when necessary.

Present luggage compartments should be continued; so should the trend toward simple, durable upholstery. Consideration should be given to installation of a radio as part of the original equipment.

Young plants grown without a check are better for transplanting to the garden, than much larger plants which have been checked in growth by too little soil, light, or other adverse conditions indoors.

Seed Box in Sunny Window Gives Plants Head Start

When first sprouts appear, remove paper and glass into light. Do not allow to dry out. Water from below. Excessive watering causes damping off.

COVER BOX WITH GLASS AND HEAVY PAPER TO EXCLUDE LIGHT. KEEP IN COOL LOCATION.

A small box in a sunny window will give the seeds of a few favorite varieties of Victory Garden vegetables several weeks' head-start this spring.

If you have no cold frame or hot-bed, yet do not want to be limited to the selection of plants usually in the market, the seed box offers a way to grow your own.

The name "flat" is usually applied to the seed box. It may be of any convenient size, from a cigar box to the standard florist's flat, which is usually 14 by 20 inches, 4 inches deep. Holes may be bored in the bottom of the box to assist drainage, though if the boxes are not watertight, excess water has no difficulty in escaping through the cracks. A cigar box should be re-inforced by wire to keep it from falling apart.

Soil used in a seed box should always be put through a sieve. The coarse soil may be used in the bottom, the fine on top. Florists' potting soil is the best, or a fine garden loam, about half sand.

Seeds may be broadcast one variety to a flat; or sown in rows, which allows several varieties to be grown in the same box, each row being labeled. The broadcast method has some advantage with tiny seeds.

Seeds which are broadcast are usually less crowded than those in rows. If you sow in rows, use the edge of a ruler to make shallow indentations in the soil, sow thinly, cover lightly, and firm the soil with a block of wood.

By lowering the box in a tub of water, the soil may now be thoroughly soaked without danger of washing the seeds from their places. A wet blanket of newspaper may be placed over the soil to keep it from drying, and the box set in a warm, dark place until the seeds sprout.

Immediately sprouts appear remove this blanket, and place the box in the sunniest window you own. A kitchen window is good, because humidity is always greater there. If a pane of glass is kept over the box at night, moisture will be conserved; but always lift an edge of this cover during the day, for ventilation; wipe off moisture which condenses on it, and remove it entirely when the plants grow high enough to touch it.

Watering must be thorough; soak the soil whenever it grows dry; and do this without washing the soil. Seed-boxes handled this way seldom suffer from "damping off," which is a fungus disease that kills little plants. But if you do have this trouble, then disinfectants can be obtained which will minimize it.

Being constantly under observation the seed box enables the amateur to learn at first hand the way seedlings grow, and the conditions which encourage healthy progress.

Second Reading Of Quebec Power Bill Unanimous

QUEBEC, March 24—(CP)—The Quebec legislative assembly yesterday gave unanimous second reading to Premier Duplessis' bill to promote rural electrification by means of electricity co-operatives after Opposition Leader Adélard Godbout said his Liberal supporters were voting for the principle of the bill rather than the bill itself.

The assembly then joined in tribute to Sir Thomas Chapais, government leader in the legislative council, who celebrated his 87th birthday yesterday.

Rationed Diet Needs the Vitamin-Rich Vegetables

Serious reduction in meat and butter rations has increased the need for fresh, vitamin rich vegetables in the diet. Victory gardeners should make sure that they grow and use the kinds which will supply the requirements for good nutrition.

A national nutrition conference, called to discuss the problem, agreed the daily ration of vitamins required by an active adult to maintain good health should include 5,000 international units of Vitamin A, 600 international units of B1, 75 milligrams of C, and 2.7 milligrams of B2.

The armed forces are being fed by experts who see to it that their vitamin intake is adequate. But civilians, who must also maintain maximum health, should look out after their own vitamin supply by choosing foods which will provide it.

The phrase generally used to describe vegetables rich in vitamins is: Green leafy and yellow vegetables. But that phrase is inexact; more definite information is needed, and this can be found in the vitamin table which accompanies this article.

Many vitamin tables have been published, no two of them alike. Do not be disturbed if this table does not agree exactly with other tables.

But check your garden list with this table, and be sure that you are growing enough of the vitamin-rich vegetables to supply your family with a full quota of the vitamins they need.

Glider Training For Air Cadets Will Start Soon

OTTAWA, March 24—(CP)—The first phase of a Canadian air cadet glider training program will get underway this summer with an instructor's training course at a gliding camp in Ontario, it was decided yesterday at the concluding session of the two-day annual meeting of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

Each province will send a number of prospective chief instructors to learn the rudiments of primary glider training. They will begin provincial glider training next September.

The league decided to maintain air cadet strength across Canada at its present 50,000.

House to Adjourn For Easter Period

OTTAWA, March 24—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King proposed yesterday that the House of Commons take Good Friday and Easter Monday off. Answering a question from Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, about an Easter adjournment, Mr. King gave notice of a motion that the house adjourn from Thursday, March 29, to Tuesday, April 2.

If your garden soil has much clay, prepare a special lot, mixed with half sand and considerable humus, with which to cover seeds, to prevent formation of a crust the seedlings cannot penetrate.

WAR VETERANS Questions and Answers DEPARTMENT

Payment of gratuities is a question of great interest to veterans and families of service personnel.

Never in the history of Canada have so many men and women been mobilized in a national effort of such great magnitude. But after more than five years of war the glorious sun of final victory can be seen through the smoke of the final battles on the distant horizon.

While the war still rages the process of demobilization is already beginning for many.

Therefore the future welfare of the teeming thousands who served Canada in the dark years of the struggle is a subject of primary importance to every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

It is virtually impossible to find a family that has not been touched by the hand of war in a personal manner.

All questions concerning re-establishment and rehabilitation are therefore of great general interest at the present time. It is for this reason that The Edmonton Bulletin has opened the War Veterans Questions and Answers Department.

All veterans and their families are urged to send in their questions on any phase of rehabilitation and re-establishment or on the functioning of the Dependents' Allowance Act. Letters should be short and clearly worded.

Names and addresses must accompany each letter but will not be used where letter-writers do not wish the names to appear.

THE QUESTION

Dear Sir:
My brother was killed in Italy last year. I am his next-of-kin as our parents are both dead and he was unmarried. I was not a dependent of my brother as I earn my own living but he did assign some of his monthly pay to me.

I am confused about this gratuity business. Some friends have told me I should make application for the gratuity due my brother as he had been in the army about four years. Is this correct and who should I make application to?

THE ANSWER

Once again we wish to make clear that gratuities due men who die in the service are paid only to persons who have been in receipt of dependents' allowances. Persons receiving assigned pay only do not qualify whether they are officially the next-of-kin or not.
Veterans organizations all over Canada have been urging the fed-

China Communists Ask Parley Voice

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP)—The Chinese Communist wireless at Yenan said yesterday that a telegraphic appeal had gone out to Messrs. Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin for separate Chinese Communist representatives at the San Francisco World Security Conference. The Yenan broadcast, beamed in English to North America and recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, suggested that Chungking be given only a third of the delegation.

right to work on setting up the business.

Now the project is a reality in the rear of premises at 10024 101A avenue, under the name of Soper and Singleton radio service and electrical appliances.

"Yes, there's a hard period of readjustment a fellow has to go through after leaving the service," Singleton admitted.

HASN'T BEEN BAD

"But with us it hasn't been so bad. In many ways coming back to Canada has seemed so wonderful after service in the hot countries where there is a shortage of so many things that are available in abundance in Canada," Soper said.

"In the Far East," he explained, "we had to scrounge around for nearly everything, especially in the way of equipment. And the food in Canada is really wonderful. That is really not so hard to become adjusted to," the former RCAF officer said.

"Of course we miss the company of the other fellows and there are many little difficulties that must be overcome on return to civilian life. You have to become accustomed to home life again."

"Our first real difficulty was in getting a location to start our shop. We combed the city for days without any luck. Then we happened to mention our predicament to the man who operates the shoe store at the front of our shop."

PROVED PRETTY SWELL

"He was pretty swell. Without any hesitation he moved the rear partition forward to give us room. He is not an ex-serviceman but he certainly has our interests at heart. We have met nothing but the greatest of understanding from city businessmen and citizens in general and have also been treated with splendid courtesy by officials of the various veterans rehabilitation departments."

"All of this is very encouraging to fellows trying to get started back in civilian life."

"Many veterans are patronizing the shop and this helps to get the boys back in the groove too."

Although nearly everything about the military use of radar equipment is still on the secret list, Singleton and Soper admit their training in the air force has placed them literally years ahead of the civilian radio field concerning the wondrous shape of things to come after the war in the realm of radio transmission.

TELEVISION AHEAD

"Radar as we produced it in the air force is the basis for television in the future. We will be ready for television when it comes to Edmonton after the war," Soper said.

If the storied relationship between officers and NCOs in the services continues in their business endeavor Singleton and Soper have a perfect set-up with an "officer" to put up the front and a "sergeant" to really do the work. They both get a laugh out of the situation although they deny that saluting and "sirring" is continuing in their service shop.

FO Soper was widely publicized for his feat of building and operating a barracks radio station at Ceylon.

Padre Killed

WITH CANADIAN ARMY IN GERMANY, March 24.—(CP)—The Regiment de La Chaudiere lost its padre, Maj. Joseph Dalcourt, of three Rivers, Que., during the battle of the Hochwald line. He was killed when his jeep went over a mine near Keppeln as he was returning to battalion headquarters after evacuating wounded.

Plants Stay Open

OTTAWA, March 24.—(CP)—War plants will not be given permits to close for a long Easter weekend, it was decided recently at a conference between H. J. Carmichael, co-ordinator of production for the munitions department, and Arthur MacNamara, director of National Selective Service.

The lowly creatures known as trilobites were once the most highly-organized inhabitants of the globe.

Good Progress Made Toward Prorogation

Making good progress toward prorogation next week, the Legislature Friday afternoon gave third and final reading to 18 bills, while eight more were passed through committee of the whole stage and were reported for third reading.

In addition, six bills were given second reading, while one other was held in committee for further study. So far, 70 bills have been introduced at the present session, 33 of them being given second reading. One has been withdrawn, while a second has been dropped.

LEGISLATION PASSED

Among legislation passed through committee stage Friday, was a bill to amend the Edmonton charter. The bill is now ready for third reading.

The city's request for a charter amendment allowing increased fares on tram or bus lines extended to outlying districts was denied by the Legislature's municipal law committee Wednesday, and passage of the bill through the committee stage Friday concurred in the law committee decision.

Mayor A. Davidson (Ind.-Calgary), speaking on the charter bill, said he was one of the few municipal law committee members who had opposed the increased fare action of the bill. Mr. Davidson contended it was unfortunate that the city council had to come to the Legislature to get approval of this type of action. Matters relating to operation of the street railway department should be decided by the city council, he said.

Seven bills were introduced at Friday's sitting of the assembly. They were an act to incorporate the Alberta Housing Association, Ltd., the Appropriation Act, the National Housing Loans Act (Alberta), and amendments to the Domestic Animals (Uncontrolled Territory) Act, the Town and Village Act, the Municipal Districts Act and the Superannuation Act.

The housing association legislation validates order-in-council passed this February, under which the Alberta Housing Association was formed. Capital stock of the association is to be set at $2,000,000. A further $2,000,000 may be raised by sale of debentures which will bear interest at 3½ per cent.

Under the bill, the province will subscribe for 5,000 shares of stock, and will buy $500,000 of debentures. Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs, is named as chairman of the board of directors.
